DEFEAT OF HARDY CHARGED TO SMITH BY THOS. M. BELL

"Invisible, Secret Influence Operates at Capital to Exclusion of Anti-Smith-Wilson People," Says Bell.

GIVEN NO OPPORTUNITY TO DENY FALSE CHARGE

Congressman Makes Charges of Despotism and Individualism in Reviewing Postoffice Controversy.

MRS. HAM CONFIRMED.

Washington, July 10.—Controversy over the postmastership at Gainesville, Ga., was settled today when the senate confirmed the nomination of Mrs. H. W. J. Ham to succeed Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the confederate general.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 10.—(Special.)—Representative Thomas M. Bell, of the ninth district, believes there is an "invisible, secret influence operating in Washington to the exclusion of anti-Smith-Wilson people so far as Georgia appointments are concerned."

In a formal statement given out today, reviewing the Gainesville post-office controversy from its inception, he virtually charges Senator Hoke Smith with responsibility for the defeat of his nominee for his home postoffice. In conclusion he says:

"American citizens, especially in Georgia, will not allow the principles they have so long advocated and voted for reduced to monarchism or despotic individualism by those temporarily in power."

Named 16 Smith Men.

Mr. Bell thought he was making a fair distribution of the postoffices in his district, since sixteen of the eighteen postmasters he nominated were supporters of both Senator Smith and President Wilson.

In reviewing the documentary history of the case, Representative Bell quotes the letter he wrote to Senator Hoke Smith about the nomination of A. S. Hardy, to which he never received a reply. He made an engagement on May 6 to see President Wilson and was assured that no action would be taken until after this conference. The nomination was sent in the next day and Mr. Tumulty hastened to express regret, saying it was included in the batch of nominations through an oversight. But Mr. Bell did not fill his engagement at the white house.

In a letter to Senator Smith on April 14 he urged him to use his influence to defeat the "unwarranted and unholy opposition" to Mr. Hardy and assured him that sixteen out of eighteen of his nominees were original Wilson men and Hoke Smith men.

Statement From Bell.

Here is Mr. Bell's statement:

"I indorsed Mr. A. S. Hardy for the postmastership at Gainesville, knowing that he was eminently qualified for the position and is as loyal a democrat as there is in Georgia. The excuses for not appointing him, as given me, are too flimsy for consideration, besides they were successfully refuted by statements and affidavits of good citizens of Gainesville, who were original Wilson supporters.

"To Mr. Hardy is due as much or more credit for the redemption of the Ninth district from a republican majority of 300 four years ago for Taft, to a democratic majority of more than 2,500 for Wilson and Marshall in the November election, than any man in the state. I made no fight on any other applicant, but insisted upon the appointment of the man I indorsed.

"When I found the postmaster-general was prejudiced against Mr. Hardy I made repeated efforts to induce Senator Smith to assist me in getting Mr. Hardy appointed and failed to allow an interloper, who had no legitimate interest in the Gainesville office to dictate the appointment of a postmaster for Gainesville, as will be seen by the following letter, to which I have had no reply.

Letter to Hoke Smith.

April 14, 1913.

Hon. Hoke Smith, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:

You doubtless recall my visit to your house in Washington on the night of March 10, at which time I presented the names of five persons for postmasters in the Ninth district of Georgia, among which was the name of Mr. A. S. Hardy for the office at Gainesville, which is my home city. You expressed yourself as being satisfied with all of them. I hear of no protest against any of them, except that of Mr. Hardy, which objection comes mainly from persons who do not live in the Ninth district, and who could not have any personal interest in the Gainesville office.

I was urged by a large number of good citizens of Gainesville to nominate my brother, A. B. Bell, for this position, he having been the assistant postmaster for twenty years, and well qualified. I refused to do this, because I did not believe I should recommend my brother for the most important postoffice in my district, because I was in a position to do so. I named Mr. Hardy because he is eminently qualified, young, active, honest, truthful, well recommended by patrons of the office, and above all a clean, aggressive, consistent democrat, and deserves as much or more credit for the success of

MOTORCYCLIST LOSES HIS WAGER WITH DEATH

"I'll Win This Race or Break My Neck," Called O'Brien, Killed on Macon Track.

Macon, Ga., July 10.—Martin A. O'Brien, a local motorcyclist, was killed in the races here this afternoon.

The event in which O'Brien met his death was the pursuit race, in which the starters, four in number, were placed at different points on the track, and as soon as one racer passed another the man passed was out of the running.

On the second round of the track, which was slippery because of a light rainfall, O'Brien's machine skidded and he was thrown for some distance and slid for 100 feet on his back. The handlebars of his motorcycle were broken.

"Give me another machine," he yelled. "I'll win this race or break my neck."

Another machine was quickly obtained and O'Brien started again. He had not been passed by the man following him, and was gaining on the man ahead. On the third round, at almost the same spot, which also happens to be the very spot were Aviator Ely was killed nearly two years ago, his machine again skidded and crashed into a fence in front of the agricultural building, used by the state fair.

O'Brien was thrown violently over his handlebars and his head struck some timbers. His neck was broken and his skull fractured.

Three thousand persons were alongside the track at the time of the accident. Hundreds rushed to the scene, including several doctors, It was found that O'Brien had been killed almost instantly. The race ended there.

O'Brien was a well-known hatter and an officer of the Macon Motorcycle club. The races were those postponed from the 4th of July.

Martin O'Brien had no relatives here. He came here three years ago from Brooklyn, N. Y. His father, W. H. O'Brien, wired from Brooklyn tonight to hold the body until he arrives.

O'Brien also had a sister living in East Orange, N. J., and a brother in Bakersfield, Cal.

FATHER'S REQUEST LEADS TO LOCKING UP OF YOUNG GIRLS

When the father of 15-year-old Dora Rothstein came to police headquarters yesterday and asked Chief Beavers to search the city for the missing girl who had run away from home, and who, he suspected, was in bad company on the streets, Plain Clothes Men Green and McKibben were sent to find her.

Shortly before nightfall the plain clothes policemen saw two girls emerge from a moving picture and vaudeville theater on Whitehall street. The youngest, who wore a pretty summer rock and wide straw hat, fitted the description of the girl for whom they were looking.

Questions put to both girls disclosed the fact that the youngest was the Rothstein girl. The other said her name was Corinne Wilson, of 324 Highland avenue. Both were carried to headquarters and Rothstein was notified. He lives at 17 Broyles street, and is in business in the city.

Both girls were detained in Matron Bohnefeld's ward throughout the night. The runaway girl will be returned to her parents this morning. The other girl, who gives her age as 17, tells the police that she is married. She is being held for an investigation which will be promoted by Chief Beavers today.

An investigation may also be made by the police into the conduct of both girls since the Rothstein girl left home last Monday.

HUSBAND SO STINGY HIS $10,000,000 WIFE SECURES A DIVORCE

Oakland, Cal., July 10.—Mrs. Anita Baldwin McClaughry, daughter of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin and beneficiary under his will to the amount of $10,000,000 of his estate, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Hull McClaughry today on the ground of cruelty. McClaughry made no defense.

The plaintiff testified that she and her husband quarrelled so often over the cost of living as a result of his economical ideas that her health became impaired. They were married in Carson City, Nev., in 1909.

The custody of the two children of the McClaughrys is to be shared by both parents, according to the terms of an agreement reached out of court. It was stated informally by the attorneys that Mrs. McClaughry made a settlement of $300,000 upon her former husband.

WILSON GETS LOST IN HAMPSHIRE WOODS

Cornish, N. H., July 10.—President Wilson got lost in the New Hampshire woods late today, finally reaching here at 5 o'clock, an hour late for dinner, after a long automobile ride.

The president started shortly before 4 o'clock with Mrs. Wilson and several others, motoring along the Connecticut river for many miles toward Springfield, N. H., intending to make a wide circuit homeward. They got tangled up in the route, then were overtaken by darkness. The president passed through several small towns where he was often recognized, but made no stops except to inquire the route home.

Forrest Fires Out.

Mount Tamalpais, Summit, Cal., July 10.—The forest fires o nMount Tamalpais are out. Here and there linger a few smouldering embers, but after four days and three nights of fighting, Mill Valley, Lark Spur, Corte Madera and Muir woods are out of danger. Outside the destruction of timber, the property loss has been slight. There was no loss of life.

ONLY MAINTENANCE FUNDS ARE ASKED OF LEGISLATURE

General Board of University System Decides Not to Ask for Any Special Appropriations.

INSTITUTIONS NEEDS HEARD BY COMMITTEE

Great Sacrifices Are Involved in Self-Denying Resolution for Good of State—Governor Met With Board.

No special appropriations will be asked for this year by the representatives of the various state educational institutions constituting the University of Georgia system. Only maintenance funds, reduced in each case to what the trustees regard as the lowest practicable basis, will be demanded of the legislature.

The general board of the university held a meeting in the state library yesterday morning preparatory to appearing before the appropriations committee of the house in the afternoon and reached this conclusion. Recognition was taken of the present condition of the state treasury and the great difficulties with which the legislators and the governor are contending in their effort to straighten out the financial tangle, and the board decided that nothing further than maintenance funds could be spared this year.

Small Increases Asked.

In a number of instances the same maintenance fund was asked as was obtained last year. In only two cases did the increases asked for exceed $10,000. They were $30,000 asked for extension work by the State College of Agriculture, and $30,000 to put the new plant which the people of Augusta have built and equipped for the Medical college, into operation.

Governor Slaton met with the board of trustees and explained to them the financial difficulties that confronted him. There was a general disposition to co-operate with the governor, although great sacrifices on the part of several of the institutions concerned were involved.

Sacrifices Involved.

The University of Georgia proper is forced to forego its heating plant, which is made almost necessary by the growing needs of the students and which it is calculated would save the state $1,200 per year, saved in a few years to pay for the initial cost.

The Technological school, in giving up its demand for a small appropriation for a power plant, will probably lose the gifts made by northern machinery concerns of expensive equipment for such a plant, which equipment was contingent on an appropriation by the state to erect a building. The $100,000 obtained last year, only $35,000 of which came from the state will also be made of little or no value for lack of operating funds.

The State Normal school at Athens and the Girls' school at Milledgeville must continue to turn away hundreds of students eager for the training and education they have not dormitories in which to house them.

The school at Dahlonega, which offers the only chance for education to hundreds of poor mountain boys, will be unable to replace its burned building, so badly needed, the charred walls of which will continue to stand as a monument to the state's neglect.

Other instances might be cited, but these are enough to show what imperative demands were foregone by the board's self-denying resolution.

The Hearing.

When the appropriations committee met at 3 o'clock in the afternoon there was some discussion as to the meaning of the resolution adopted Tuesday which created such a sensation. It was pointed out to the chairman that unless the speakers for the various institutions were allowed to present arguments for the maintenance increases asked for, the time and expense of their appearing before the committee would be waste.

Chairman Whatley finally ruled that they might argue for increases, but that, under the resolution adopted by the committee, such increases could not be included in the general appropriation bill, but must be sought by special bills for each increase. Strong pressure will be brought to bear, however, to change this feature of the resolution, so that increases, if any are allowed, which is doubtful, may go in the general bill, as question has been raised as to the legality of special bills for maintenance increases.

Chancellor Barrow appeared for the university system as a whole and presented former Governor Henry D.

Map of the War Zone in the Balkans

These three kings—Peter of Servia, Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Constantine of Greece—are fighting for territorial supremacy in Macedonia. The map shows the principal points at which the troops are concentrated. Reports of the fighting indicate that the former Balkan allies are slaughtering each other with more deadly effect than that which ensued when they fought against the Turks. The Gatling guns used by the Bulgarians are said to be responsible for much of the heavy loss of life.

COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN THREE NEW COUNTIES

Candler County Only One to Be Recommended Favorably. Fight Precipitated.

The creation of Candler county was recommended by the committee considering bills to create new counties Thursday afternoon.

At the same time the committee declined to recommend the creation of Stonewall, Evans and Hampton counties.

The hearings upon the creation of Candler and Stonewall counties were had last Tuesday afternoon, at which time the committee withheld decision in the matter, by request, until the hearings upon the two other counties named had been held.

This request was made upon the ground that all four of these counties contemplated cutting into the territory of Tattnall county.

The hearings Thursday were upon Evans, Hampton and Treutlen counties. The opposition upon the creation of Treutlen county was not heard because of the fact that the matter was not scheduled to come up at all Tuesday afternoon and was only admitted for hearing with the understanding that there was no opposition to its creation. Upon conclusion of the hearing in its favor, however, it developed that there was opposition, and upon request of J. B. Geiger, of Mount Vernon, the remainder of the hearing was set for next Tuesday afternoon.

The Evans County Fight.

The advocacy of the creation of Evans county, with Claxton as the county seat and cutting into Tattnall and Liberty counties, was lead by W. G. Waddell, of Higgins.

Mr. Waddell submitted to the committee statistics upon the population, taxable property and area involved, and explained that the people of the affected territory had at present great difficulty in reaching their county seats.

Mr. Wilkinson, of Bulloch county, followed Mr. Waddell, presented several petitions and more statistics favoring Evans county. He presented a signed statement from ex-Representative J. J. E. Anderson, of Bulloch, who later appeared opposing Evans county, which purported to represent Mr. Anderson as favoring Evans.

John W. Bennett, of Waycross, made the opening address before the committee in behalf of the creation of Hampton county.

Oppose All Four Counties.

Judge Clyde Collins, of the city court of Reidsville, Tattnall county, appeared opposing all four of the counties proposed to cut into the Tattnall territory, with the exception of Evans county, to which, he said, the people of Tattnall county were agreeable, and for which they agreed upon lines.

He was followed by ex-Representative And rson, who hastened to explain that in the document presented by Mr. Waddell he had meant that he would favor Evans county if two-thirds of the people in the affected territory favor it.

He represented that conditions in regard to roads and reaching county seats were not so bad as represented, and advocated before the committee

CALIFORNIAN'S FAIR CORRESPONDENT IS WIFE OF ANOTHER

W. N. Stetzer, in his California home, will probably be grieved to learn that the good-looking young hairdresser in Atlanta with whom he corresponded and exchanged pictures with a view to matrimony, is a bride of less than three weeks.

Stetzer will not learn of the marriage, however, until he hears from Chief James L. Beavers, to whom he wrote in an effort to recover his letters and pictures sent to Mrs. J. D. Rembert, who, before her recent marriage, was Miss Bessie Williman.

Mrs. Rembert operates a hair-dressing parlor at 56½ Peachtree street. Her correspondence with the Californian began considerable while ago, she says, when a girl friend in Oklahoma, interested a matrimonial advertisement as a joke on the Atlanta girl.

Stetzer, whose picture Mrs. Rembert alleges was not attractive, saw the ad and wrote to the hairdresser. He sent his picture, and in a short while received an answer and his correspondent's picture. She asked for references. He failed to send them with the result that her end of the correspondence suddenly became inactive.

Thursday, Chief Beavers received a letter from Stetzer at his Long Beach, Cal., home. Stetzer invoked the aid of the police in recovering the letters and picture, which, he says, numerous letters to Mrs. Rembert have failed to bring. The chief says the affair is too insignificant for police notice, and will take no action.

A Constitution reporter visited Mrs. Rembert. She declares she destroyed the Californian's picture and letters. She married J. D. Rembert three weeks ago.

2 CHILDREN DROWNED BY THEIR STEPMOTHER IN SPIRIT OF REVENGE

Union City, Tenn., July 10.—Mrs. James Yates, whom, together with her 15-year-old daughter, Florence Faris, was placed in jail here this afternoon on the charge of murder, has confessed to drowning her two step-children, Lignon Yates, aged 12, and Ida May, aged 10.

In the alleged confession, made to Attorney General D. J. Caldwell, Mrs. Yates is said to have stated that her husband and step-children had mistreated her and that her act was in a spirit of retaliation.

According to the woman's story she lured the children away under a pretense of going blackberry picking and led them to a small pool, some 18 inches deep. The elder boy struggled to escape and clung to a bash. In the meantime the girl ran for liberty, but was caught and brought back by Florence Faris.

While the drowning was under way, the younger boy, James, escaped, and ran a mile to a neighbor's and gave the alarm. The elder boy put up a brave struggle as was indicated by the many bruises upon his body.

MOB LYNCHES NEGRO FOR AIDING MURDERER

Crime of "Kid" Tempers Consisted in Assisting Slayer of Officer to Escape.

Pensacola, Fla., July 10.—A negro known as "Kid" Tempers, was taken from the jail at Blountstown, Fla., shortly after midnight last night by a mob of citizens and lynched. The mob overpowered the jailer and carried Tempers to the river bank, where he was strung up to a limb, his body later being riddled with bullets.

The negro assisted another negro, who had killed a deputy sheriff of the neighborhood to escape by giving him money and keeping him in hiding. His lodgings consisted of a veritable arsenal. The mill town where the lynching occurred is quiet. The coroner's verdict was "death caused at hands of unknown parties."

ANNA GOULD'S APPEAL ADMITTED BY ROME

Rome, July 10.—The Segnatura tribunal, the supreme tribunal of the Curia Romana, has admitted the appeal of the attorney representing Anna Gould, now the Duchess de Talleyrand, and Mgr. Parilla, defender of the matrimonial bond, against the decision of the Rota tribunal, annulling the marriage of Count Boni de Castellane, and Miss Gould. The Segnatura tribunal, however, has made no announcement of its decision as yet, and a new trial of the case before the Rota tribunal has not been ordered. Two decisions have been rendered by the Rota court, the first against Count Boni de Castellane, who sought the annulment, and the second reversing the former decree and granting the annulment.

His Men With Rock.

Lawrenceville, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—Sheriff E. S. Garner went to Duluth Tuesday night and arrested Marshall New on a charge of assault with intent to murder. He struck J. W. McGee on the head with a rock and inflicted a severe wound. It seems that McGee and s brother of New were having a difficulty, and Marshall New went to the younger boy's assistance. He pulled McGee off and New contends that McGee was advancing on him with an open knife when he struck him with the rock.

RUMANIA HURLING HER FRESH ARMIES TO FINISH BULGARS

Rumanian Troops Crossing Border to Complete Rout Begun by Forces of Greece, Servia and Montenegro.

BULGARS ARE FLEEING ALL ALONG THE LINE

Bulgaria Places Herself in the Hands of Great Powers, Hoping That the War May Be Stopped.

Bucharest, July 10.—The Rumonian government has issued orders to the army to invade Bulgaria at once and has instructed the Rumanian minister at Sofia to notify the Bulgarian government of this decision.

Vienna, July 10.—Rumanian troops began to cross the Bulgarian frontier at 4 o'clock this afternoon according to late advices received here.

BULGARIA BEGGING POWERS TO PUT A STOP TO THE WAR

London, July 10.—The end of a fortnight's desperate fighting in the Balkans finds Bulgaria forced to appeal to the powers to arrange peace.

The Bulgarian plan to drive a wedge between the Greek and Servian armies in the neighborhood of Guevgheli has completely failed.

The last reports of the fighting received from Athens tonight show that the Servians and Greeks at this point are combining their forces, while the Rumanian army is beginning an invasion of Bulgaria. The latter fact doubtless was the deciding factor in the Bulgarian appeal to the powers.

Causes of Bulgarian Defeat.

How far Bulgaria's defeat is due to dissensions in high military quarters, which resulted in the resignation of General Savoff, and how far to the fact that the Bulgarian troops, which more the brunt of the hard fighting in the last campaign, were more exhausted than the Greek and Servian forces, will probably never be known.

Nothing can be predicted at the moment as to how events will shape themselves, the Rumanian invasion of Bulgaria having brought an entirely new factor into the problem. Russia and France are devoting their efforts to persuading the allies to adopt a moderate attitude in order to facilitate a peaceful settlement.

The Servian premier is quoted in the Vienna Neue Freie Presse as declaring that the war has completely set aside all treaties of alliance and that peace must now be negotiated on an entirely new basis.

Bulgaria Appeals to Russia.

St. Petersburg, July 10.—Bulgaria has placed herself unreservedly in the hands of Russia with the view of bringing about a cessation of hostilities in the Balkans and in order to prevent further bloodshed, according to an announcement made here today apparently on good authority.

Vienna, July 10.—France has undertaken to negotiate with Servia and Greece on behalf of Bulgaria, to ascertain what terms of peace can be arranged.

The French government has advised the Greeks and the Servians not to demand too much or otherwise Bulgaria is likely to prefer to take the chances of fighting out the quarrel.

GREEKS WIN GREAT VICTORY; BULGARIANS ARE ROUTED

Athens, July 10.—Official dispatches report the continued pursuit of the Bulgarians and a desperate battle in the passes of Mount Belissi and on the road from Doiran to Strumitza, which resulted in complete victory for the Greeks and the rout of the Bulgarians.

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

The capture of these passes was a disaster for the Bulgarians because it enabled the Greeks to attack the rear of the Bulgarian fourth army corps, which had its front fortified against the Servians. The Bulgarians hastily abandoned their fortified positions in front of Istip and fled headlong from the furious assault of the Greek infantry, who captured nine guns. The Greeks pursued the enemy as far as Strumitza.

On the extreme left the Greeks today attacked the Bulgarians near Lemishaeir.

BULGARIANS ARE FLEEING BEFORE THE SERVIAN FORCES

Belgrade, Servia, July 10.—Bulgarian troops continue to retire, closely pursued by the Servians, according to official reports received here. The Bulgarians retreating from Latip, had intended to occupy Radovitch, an important town several miles to the east, but the Servian cavalry drove them out of this strategic position yesterday. The Bulgarians fled precipitately, leaving their dead and wounded and throwing away rifles, ammunition and food.

ARMY OF 50,000 BULGARIANS REPORTED TO BE CAPTURED

London, July 11.—Rumors were published in Berlin yesterday and, according to The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Athens, were current there that General Ivanoff, with 50,000 Bulgarians, was forced to surrender near Demirhissar, where fighting was proceeding for the possession of a railroad bridge over the Struma river.

A later Athens dispatch to The Telegraph says that no confirmation can be obtained.

Dispatches from the European capitals published in London severely criticize Premier Daneff's overbearing policy as being the cause of the Bulgarians' defeat and his speedy downfall is predicted.

It is expected that Rumania's first step will be the occupation of the 2,500 square miles of territory which she claims from Bulgaria as compensation for her neutrality in the late war. This strip extends from Turtukai to Baltchik, on the Black sea, and includes the city of Silistria.

BLAME FOR THE WRECK PUT ON RAIL OFFICIALS

Washington, July 10.—Engineer Dougherty's inexperience in handling high speed passenger trains was the principal cause of the New York, New Haven & Hartford wreck at Stamford, Conn., on June 12, in which six passengers were killed and seventy injured. The interstate commerce commission's report of its investigation of the accident, made public today, so holds, and adds that the responsibility for placing an "inexperienced and uninstructed" enginemen in charge of a high speed passenger train rests with the operating officers of the railroad.

The engine brakes, tests seem to indicate, were good, the train brakes, not as efficient as safety demanded in such a fast train, but the home and distant signals at Stamford were held to be too close together. Dougherty's inexperience and lack of instruction, the commission holds, were responsible for his failure to apply the brakes in time to stop the train before the danger signal set against him.

New York, July 10.—Officials of the New Haven railroad late today issued a statement regarding the interstate commerce commission's report on the Stamford wreck, declaring the employment of the inexperienced engineer was practically forced upon the road by the company's engineers.

"In 1912," the statement recites, "the road issued an order that where engineers with less than two years' experience should not be allowed to run through passenger trains. The engineers protested and offered the rule now in effect providing a requirement of one year instead of two."

X-RAYS ARE BEING USED TO CURE TUBERCULOSIS

Denver, July 10.—The National Institute of Homeopathy will hold its conventions in 1914 at Atlantic City; in 1915 at Portland, Ore., and in 1916 at Dresden, Germany. Announcement of the selection was made today.

Successful treatment of tuberculosis by means of x-rays was announced by Dr. J. D. Gibson, of Denver, in a paper read before the American Institute of Physical Therapeutics. Dr. Gibson declared he had used his treatment in 400 cases and had been successful with 85 per cent.

The institute today tabled the resolution introduced yesterday by Henry R. Stout, of Jacksonville, Fla., requesting members to withdraw from any allopathetic organization with which they are connected.

AGNES ROANE ATKINSON IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Agnes Roane Atkinson, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer R. Atkinson, Jr., died Thursday morning at 2 o'clock at the home of her parents, Springhill, near Smyrna, Ga.

She was the niece of Judge Samuel C. Atkinson and Judge Spencer R. Atkinson, of this city.

The body was taken last night to Mt. Pleasant, near Brunswick, Ga., where the funeral and interment will be held.

Chas. Hamilton Acquitted.

Lawrenceville, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—Charlie Hamilton was given a preliminary trial Thursday before Justice J. A. Brown, charged with the murder of Buck Bennett, colored, at Buford last Saturday. While there was no eye-witness except Mr. Hamilton and a boy by the name of Terrell, all of the evidence pointed to the fact that the shooting was justifiable, and Judge Brown dismissed the warrant.

U. S. Railway for Alaska.

Washington, July 10.—A bill authorizing the president to construct a railroad in Alaska and to mine coal in that territory, was introduced in the senate today by Senator Poindexter, of Washington. For these purposes the president would be authorized to borrow $50,000,000. The bill would provide that hereafter no coal lands shall be disposed of except under lease.

Insurance Man Who Made Affidavit Says Conversation Was With Some Other Negro—Saw Conley at Station.

It was disclosed Thursday afternoon that William H. Mincey, the insurance agent, who has made an affidavit to the effect that Jim Conley, on the date of the Phagan murder, drunkenly admitted that he had stabbed a girl, had appeared at police headquarters during Conley's grilling and had positively failed to identify the negro.

This was told a Constitution reporter by Detective Harry Scott, of the Pinkertons, and Detective Chief Newport Lanford. The insurance agent, they declared, had come to the police station while Conley was being cross-examined, and had asked to see the prisoner.

He wanted to see if he could identify Conley as the negro whom he had seen drunk at the corner of Electric and Carter streets on the afternoon of Saturday, April 26. He was admitted to Conley's presence. After asking the negro a number of questions pertaining to a conversation he had held with the black encountered at Electric and Carter streets, Mincey, the detectives assert, declared he could not identify the suspect.

"He's not the man I saw," Lanford and Scott say the insurance man declared.

Conley was asked by Mincey on that date if he had not talked with him about the issuance of a life insurance policy. Conley denied having ever seen the man. Mincey, the detectives say, was positive in his declaration that Conley was not the negro with whom he had held the conversation.

Did Not Approach Detectives.

Scott said to the reporter last night:

"This man Mincey never made mention of Chief Lanford and me of having heard the negro say he had killed a girl that afternoon. He never offered us any such story. He was so absolutely sure of his failure to identify Conley that we had no more attention to him or his story.

"If we had heard any such story against Conley and could have verified it like the report says it is now verified, we would have immediately sworn out a warrant charging him with Mary Phagan's murder. Neither Lanford nor I put credence in the story of Mincey's affidavit. It looks flimsy from every standpoint."

Mincey is said to have put into the hands of Frank's counsel a sworn statement declaring that on the afternoon of the Phagan muder he had encountered Jim Conley at the corner of Electric and Carter streets, and had approached the negro on the subject of issuing life insurance.

Conley, his statement is said to state, was drinking and refused the insurance offer. "I killed a girl this afternoon," he is reported with having answered, "and I'm likely to be in jail tonight." He grew threatening, the insurance man states, and to avoid trouble, Mincey walked away.

Investigating Possible "Plant."

It was announced from the Pinkerton offices last night that an investigation is being based on the theory that the Mary Phagan pay envelope which Detectives Harry Scott and John Black located on the first floor of the pencil factory, was "planted" evidence.

The envelope was found crumpled behind a radiator near the spot at which Conley was alleged to have had the first floor in waiting for his employer's summons to the second story. The nature of its evidence, it is said, is in direction of guilt toward the negro.

Fight to Free Lee.

Attorney Bernard L. Charpell, of Graham & Charpell, representing Newt Lee, the negro night watchman of the National Pencil facotry, stated last night that he had secured subpoenas for fifty witnesses to appear at the hearing of the habeas corpus at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and upon which occasion he would ask that of the court an instanter order to bring Leo M. Frank and James Conley into court to testify about Lee.

A subpoena duces tecum has also been issued requiring Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey to bring into court the grand jury docket and all papers referring to the case of Lee, who was bound over by the coroner's jury at the same time that Frank, afterwards indicted for the murder of Mary Phagan, was ordered held to jail.

Solicitor Dorsey, his assistant, E. A. Stephens, Detective Chief Newport Lanford, Pinkerton Detective Harry Scott, and City Detectives John Black and Starnes and Campbell are also named in subpoenas.

In addition to these, Lee's attorneys have had subpoenas issued for E. F. Holloway, day watchman at the factory, and for L. H. Rech, foreman of the grand jury, and the foreman of the present grand jury, and for a number of others to be present.

The fight will be made to free Lee on the grounds that he should not have been indicted by two grand juries and that there is no legal reason for holding him further.

Finger Prints May Fix Guilt.

Mary Phagan's mesh bag pocketbook, the one she carried to the pencil factory on the day of her tragic disappearance, has been found on the scene of her murder and finger prints that are said to be lodged on its surface are expected to convict the murderer. It was rumored around police headquarters Thursday afternoon.

Secrecy as impenetrable as that thrown around the inside of the investigation has been woven about this latest discovery. No one connected with the case will talk. Few deny, however, that the bag has been found.

The report prevalent around headquarters is that the bag was found about the same time of the envelope discovery. It has been kept secret, it is said, because of the reported success of Bertillon experts in discerning finger prints on its surface. Bertillon Expert L. M. Fletcher, of the United States government service, it is reported, made the finger print examinations.

Chief Lanford would not commit himself, and neither would Solicitor Dorsey. Chief Beavers maintained the same attitude of silence that has been characteristic of him during the entire Phagan investigation. Other than the rumor, which came from responsible source, reporters could gain no further proof of the reported discovery.

Bertillon experts who examined the pay envelope, it is stated, have been unable to find finger prints thereon. Only one side of the envelope was discovered. The lower side had been torn away. This condition of the clue has added mystery to its connection with the case.

Tax Equalization Keynote At Banquet to Legislature

Need for an equalization of the tax system of Georgia, which J. Randolph Anderson, president of the senate, termed, "Miserably inadequate and unsuited to the needs of the state," was the keynote of every speech at the dinner given last night at the Piedmont Driving club in honor of Governor John M. Slaton and the members of the legislature.

President Wilmer L. Moore, of the chamber of commerce, acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers. In his address President Moore spoke of the work of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and declared that it was working not only for Atlanta, but for Georgia as well, and that its efforts hoped to aid in bringing about such conditions as would make Georgia the greatest and foremost of all southern states.

He paid a tribute to the legislators and their work and expressed the pleasure of the business men of Atlanta at having an opportunity to know them better and to get into closer touch with them. Before introducing Governor Slaton, the toastmaster took up the question of the equalization of taxation in order to add revenue to the state and meet the deficit.

Sisters Commended on Stand.

Governor Slaton and the speakers who followed urged the same thing. The governor spoke of the need of Georgia's schools and commented on the unfairness of the present system of taxation upon real estate by which one man may return his property at 10 cents on the dollar, while another returns his at 30 cents.

Before the governor concluded his short speech he had aroused the enthusiasm of his hearers on the subject of no city and no country, no north Georgia and south Georgia, but one state, joined for the common cause of the state with the business and farming and other interests all working for its general good.

President Anderson, of the senate, and Speaker William H. Burwell, of the house, were the other two speakers and each stressed the need for an equalization of the tax system, the former declaring that were this done, the rate could soon be reduced from five to three mills on the dollar.

350 in Attendance.

The dinner was thoroughly enjoyed by a crowd numbering about 350 persons and a spirit of enthusiasm for the state and of good will between the members of the chamber who acted as hosts, and their guests from the lawmaking bodies.

Among those sitting at the speakers' table in addition to those mentioned, were Mayor James G. Woodward, Judge W. T. Newman, General R. K. Evans, of the United States army; Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, J. D. Price, Mell R. Wilkinson, Brooks Morgan, V. H. Kriegshaber, W. L. Peel, J. R. Smith and Walter G. Cooper.

MEXICANS ARE ANGERED BY AMERICAN COUNCIL

Nogales, Mexico, July 10.—Deportation of Charles L. Montague, American consular agent at Chanates, was recommended in an open letter received here today from E. Martinez, city clerk of Chanates, to Governor Pesqueira, of Sonora, to apply article 33 of the Mexican constitution providing for the expulsion of "undesirable foreigners."

The matter was referred today to the state department at Washington through Frederick Simpich, American consular representative here.

Montague is said to have incurred the displeasure of the state officials at Cabanea, by refusing to cash a draft he had issued in his capacity as cashier of the Mercantile Banking company, an American concern. Montague declared later that he had signed the draft under threat.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Along Broadway."

(At the Bijou.)

There will be the usual double matinee today at the Bijou, and with the two night performances, the engagement of Along Broadway, which has been attracting crowded houses and popular theater all week, will close. Alona Broadway is just the sort of attraction for hot weather, bristling with fun, catchy music, graceful dances, and staged in a manner unusual in the popular priced productions.

For next week, the management announces another winner in "Here sis Carre."

Keith Vaudeville.

(AT THE FORSYTH.)

Active interest in the Forsyth and in Keith vaudeville makes matters look pretty smooth around the busy theater. It is really the truth that in such matters as bowing to succeed it is hardly probable that theaters are being kept more busy than in the case of the Forsyth. It would appear that the habit of the house being crowded will never be interfered with. The bill for next week will be headed by Alice Berger and company, in their new sketch, "Judgment," conceded to be the greatest playlet in modern vaudeville.

Talking Pictures.

(AT THE GRAND.)

Motion pictures at the Grand continue to draw big gatherings from 2:30 in the afternoon until 10:30 at night, and the popular admission price of 10 cents seems to exactly suit the fancy of Atlanta people who are delighted with the idea of the opportunity to witness the very best motion pictures, in comfort and in safety.

PANAMA WANTS RENTAL FROM UNITED STATES

Washington, July 10.—Panama wants the first installment of the $250,000 annual rental the United States promised to pay for the isthmian canal zone and financial agents for the little republic in their urgent applications for the money virtually have suggested that the American government has defaulted in its obligations. Secretary Bryan has held up the payment which was due February 2 last, and for which congress provided in the urgent deficiency bill.

No explanation has been forthcoming from the state department, but it is understood that the secretary is inclined to make no payment pending the outcome of negotiations with Colombia regarding that country's claim for indemnity for the separation of Panama.

In the trip-partite treaties negotiated by Secretary Root for the purpose of reconciling Colombia for the loss of Panama, it was proposed to turn over the canal zone rental to Colombia, for a period. This convention was signed by the United States and Panama, but Colombia refused to ratify it and the government of Panama now insists there is no reason for witholding the rental.

Both Panama Minister Morales and Colombian Minister Betancourt called at the state department today.

RHODES CO. MANAGERS ARE NOW IN ATLANTA

The partners, general managers and buyers for the Rhodes syndicate of furniture houses are on their annual visit to Atlanta. They will spend a few days here inspecting carefully the "Atlanta-made goods" before starting on their long journey to the western and eastern markets for the purpose of buying their fall stocks under the guidance of J. D. Rhodes, vice president and treasurer of the syndicate.

This syndicate, of which A. G. Rhodes, of this city, is president, operates a chain of furniture houses throughout the south and west and in it will be found many of the big and most skilled retail furniture men of the south.

Many of the southern managers when interviewed by a reporter this morning stated that the south had never been in a better condition and that the outlook for the future had never been brighter. They said that housekeepers in general were fast learning the value of buying a higher grade of home furnishings than was customary in the past.

MISS INEZ SEBRING SHOOTS SELF IN HEAD

Jacksonville, Fla., July 10.—Miss Inez Sebring, aged 17, daughter of W. R. Sebring, wealthy Jacksonville business man, and granddaughter of former Mayor W. H. Seabring, who was a confederate general, attempted suicide yesterday by shooting herself in the head with a revolver. Physicians believe she will die. She has been suffering from melancholia since the death of her mother several months ago.

STARVING OF CONVICTS CHARGED TO WARDEN

White Plains, N. Y., July 10.—That he gave convicts insufficient food and clothing, furnished them unclean bedding and damp blankets and compelled prisoners to wear clothing cast off by other convicts without fumigating the garments, are some of the charges in the indictment filed by the Westchester county grand jury today against John S. Kennedy, whom Governor Sulzer recently removed as warden of Sing Sing prison.

Kennedy surrendered himself in the county court and gave $1,000 bond.

Ball Players Join Union.

New York, July 10.—Sixteen members of the Cleveland Baseball club, of the American league, today joined the Baseball Players' fraternity. This gives the fraternity representation in every club of the two major leagues, and a membership a trifle in excess of 400.

Saw Mill Burned.

Pensacola, Fla., July 10.—The saw and planing mills of the Gulf Lumber company at Santa Rosa, Fla., and 100,000 feet of lumber, were destroyed by fire today. The loss is given at $50,000. A large warehouse of Cessna Bros., and a launch at the docks were also destroyed.

MRS. M'LENDON AGAIN HEADS SUFFRAGISTS

"Women in Clubs Just Practicing for the Ballot," She Says. Meet in Decatur in 1914.

"Women have started preparing themselves for the ballot by practicing voting! That's one of the highest functions of women's clubs."

This was the interesting summary made of the woman suffrage situation yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, just after her re-election as president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association. Mrs. McLendon was re-elected unanimously to the position which she has held so faithfully for many years, and it was while the ballots were being taken for the election of the other officers that she made her very interesting remarks on "practicing for the ballot."

"Think of the thrill of voting!" exclaimed Mrs. McLendon. "We are just practicing now, let us practice hard. Women are voting and balloting in clubs and associations all over the country—real learning how and preparing themselves for the real work of voting at the polls which will eventually be theirs."

A spirit of enthusiasm overspread the entire little gathering of women Thursday afternoon in the Temple of Labor on Trinity avenue, when the last executive session of the convention was held.

All business was finished in the afternoon session, the meeting assembling in the hall of the house of representatives being confined to a series of interesting addresses.

Meet Next Year in Decatur.

On the invitation of the DeKalb County Equal Suffrage association, the convention will be transferred to Decatur day afternoon to meet next July in Decatur. Miss Katherine Koch extended the invitation to meet in Decatur, and the offer was warmly received by the women.

The complete list of officers as elected is as follows:

Mrs. M. L. McLendon, president.

Miss S. A. Gresham, first vice president.

Miss Augusta Howard, second vice president.

Miss Katherine Koch, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. A. B. Daniels, recording secretary.

Mrs. Amelia Woodall, treasurer.

Mrs. Mamie Mathews, auditor.

Indoor Chief Beavers.

One of the features of the Ray's session was the passing of resolutions indorsing Chief Beavers for the strong stand he has taken for "good government and clean morals," and "especially his action in recommending probation officers for Atlanta."

A number of interesting reports were read at the afternoon session by the women who have charge of the various departments of the association's work. Mrs. E. L. Brewer, superintendent of the membership department, told of the active plans for extending the enrollment. One of the features stressed is the intention of the association to invite men to join its ranks and help the women win the ballot. Miss Eugenia Estill reported on the organization work.

Reports were then read for the following, who were unable to be present: Mrs. Jennie Hart Sibley, superintendent of the legislative department, and petition; Mrs. J. J. Ansley, of Marshallville, department of church work; Mrs. May C. Jones, department of education; Mrs. S. C. Osborne, department of civics, and Mrs. Mamie Mathews, department of prize contests.

Plan Statewide Campaign.

Mrs. Margaret T. McWhorter outlined the publicity plans of the association as including a state-wide campaign to be conducted by the girls of the suffragists, especially through the medium of the country newspapers. This is believed to be the most effective route toward getting the cause of suffragism before the people.

Addresses were also made at Thursday's session by Mrs. J. P. Scott, of Herrington, Kan.; Mrs. Samuel Cunningham, of Decatur, head of the Georgia Federation of Labor, and Miss Augusta Howard, the organizer and first president of the Georgia Suffrage association.

Statement From Civic League.

Mrs. J. B. Gardner, secretary of the Atlanta Civic league, representing the president of the league, desires publication of certain facts pertaining to the recent controversy between the Atlanta Civic league and the State Suffrage association.

"The Atlanta Civic league has been the only auxiliary in the state and section until the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association was organized recently," said Mrs. Gardner.

"It is required that all auxiliaries pay membership dues into the state association.

"The books of the civic league show no entries of dues paid between 1906 and 1908 and none since 1908.

"The state association and the Atlanta Civic league have been officered virtually by the same women. Therefore this proves gross neglect and inefficiency on the part of the officers of the Atlanta Civic league and of the State Suffrage association.

"The constitution and by-laws of the state require election of officers annually. Two years have passed without a state meeting or election of officers.

"In view of this laxity and irregularity of the state management, the Civic league did not feel justified in paying their dues this year into the state treasury."

The night session of the convention of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association met in order in the hall of representatives last night.

The principal address was delivered by Leonard Broadnax, legal adviser to the association. He spoke on "The Next Logical Step." He declared that some may hesitate and social leaders who could help greatly to the cause hold back, but woman suffrage is inevitable: that it was the next logical step. He said that the divine right of men to rule is no more justified than the divine right of kings to rule. He pointed out that the constitution states that "ourselves and our posterity," not our "male posterity," shall enjoy the guarantees and blessings of liberty.

Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Rome, spoke of things that are to be done by the association. She pointed out that one states has never placed the right to vote, and declared that the double voting strength of the states menaced those states that have not placed the ballot in the hands of women.

Mrs. A. Augusta Howard, first president of the association, delivered a lengthy address. She made an earnest plea for harmony among the various women's organizations, insisting that a campaign of education is necessary.

Mrs. M. C. Hardin announced her resignation as an officer and member of the Atlanta Civic league. She said: "Feeling it was better for any work I might do for suffrage to be identified with the state association, I have resigned from the civic league, to join the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association."

Following Mrs. Hardin's address resolutions of thanks to the legislature for the courtesies extended the suffragists were passed.

COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN THREE NEW COUNTIES

the passage of an act of the legislature regulating the creation of new counties.

He introduced an array of witnesses from Bulloch county, who testified that they lived in the affected territory and were opposed to the creation of a new county.

Parker OpPoses Hampton.

Representative Parker, of Liberty, appeared opposing the creation of Hampton county. He admitted that he lived in the affected territory and believed that he would be benefitted by the creation of the new county, but that he felt that the majority of the people whom he represented were opposed to the new county's creation.

John F. Tattnall, supporting, in rebuttal, Evans county, wasted no time in going for the scalp of Mr. Anderson and Alfred Deal, the latter having appeared at a former meeting of the committe, opposing Evans county.

He accused Mr. Anderson of instructing the witnesses he had presented from Bulloch as to what they should say before the committe, and declared he wished the committee could cross-examine the witnesses.

"Every man in the territory of the proposed Evans county, with the exception of these witnesses, has signed a petition favoring Evans county," said Mr. Moore. He further said that Mr. Anderson and Mr. Deal had obtained signatures under misrepresentations to the people of the affected territory and that they had since repudiated their signatures to petitions which Mr. Anderson presented.

Colonel L. L. Thomas, of Tattnall, appeared for Hampton county in rebuttal.

50 SOUTHERN GROCERS ESCAPE PROSECUTION

Birmingham, Ala., July 10.—Before the defense started in on its precentation of testimony today the government attorneys announced that a number of the defendants from further prosecution in the hearings for contempt against the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, its president and officers and many members for violating a decree handed down in the case in 1911.

Among fifty names of defendants stricken from the proof lists are the following:

W. P. Reeves, Tupelo, Miss.; L. Kaufman, Montgomery; E. D. Batesville, Arkansas; Max Mayer, Little Rock, Ark.; J. A. Avant, Pensacola, Fla.; Rytenberg, Turner, Sumter, S. C.; J. C. Fesenthal, Jackson, Tenn.; J. Sugar, Monroe, La.; I. S. Jackson, Hattiesburg, Miss.

H. Mellon, of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, was on the stand when court adjourned for the day, and will resume his testimony tomorrow morning. Mr. McLaurin devoted his time to an explanation of the association's famous blue book, which, he claimed, was a list of all wholesale grocers, instead of only a list of association members to whom manufacturers could sell.

Sam Phillips, of Memphis, a former president of the association, also testified this afternoon. He compared the constitution and rules under which the association formerly operated with those now in use.

HUSBAND IS ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF WIFE

Andalusia, Ala., July 10.—Sam Spicer, Jr., was placed on trial here today for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Noble Spicer. One hundred veniremen were called from which to select a jury. Hamp Gunter, brother-in-law of the defendant, was fined $25 by Judge Alston for talking with a juror about the case. Other reports of similar approaches to the jurors have been made to the court and are being investigated.

Spicer, who is of a prominent family, is alleged to have hired a negro to kill his young wife, whose life he had insured and then to have helped in killing the negro in order to hide the evidence of the first crime.

BARROW COUNTY WINS BY A BIG MAJORITY

Constitutional Amendment for Creation of New County Passes House Easily.

The house of representatives Thursday morning passed the constitutional amendment for the creation of Barrow county.

A hot fight was precipitated in the house when this matter, recommended for passage by the special committee which heard the arguments pro and con last Tuesday afternoon, was presented for a vote.

The fight was against Thursday's final action, and was led by Representative Hardeman, of Jefferson, who moved to postpone action on the creation of Barrow county until the convening of the legislature of 1914.

Mr. Hardeman advanced that the matters of tax revision, general appropriations, the payment of school teachers and other important matters were incumbent upon the house, and that to take up the Barrow county matter would be a waste of time, in as much as the matter of ratification by the people would not come up before the general elections of October or November of 1914, in which case the next legislature could dispose of the matter in plenty of time. While opposed to the creation of Barrow county, Mr. Hardeman stated that his fight was not so much against Barrow county as against the question of the consideration of the numerous other bills for new counties, which would consume a great deal of the valuable time of the legislature.

Representative Rainey, of Jackson, led the fight for Thursday's vote on Barrow county.

Several men spoke before a motion to postpone the vote was called. The motion was lost and the bill to create Barrow county passed by a vote of 136 to 35.

In the voting Representatives Dorough, of Franklin, and Fulbright, of Burke, explained their opposing votes by stating that they were of the opinion that Georgia is creating too many new counties. Representative Minter Wimberly, of Bibb, explained his favorable vote upon his adverse opinion.

Dr. Bennett's Statement.

In reporting the remarks of Dr. J. C. Bennett, of Jackson, before the house committee a few days ago, it was stated that he presented a petition with 107 signatures against the creation of Barrow county. This was a typographical error, his petition being signed by 207 citizens representing

GOV. BLEASE YIELDS TO WAR DEPARTMENT

He Promises to Be Good to Get Federal Money for Carolina Militia.

Columbia, S. C., July 10.—That the government will resume federal assistance to the South Carolina national guard is practically assured because of a telegram addressed to Secretary of War Garrison this morning by Governor Blease, in which he complies with the specifications of conduct set forth in a letter from the secretary received today.

Secretary Garrison notified South Carolina's chief executive that he must resume proper relations with the War Department before federal assistance to South Carolina organized militia would be resumed, saying that he expected Governor Blease to give co-operation and assistance in requiring the militia to comply with the provisions of the law.

Complying with the mandate of the secretary, Governor Blease addressed the following telegram to Mr. Garrison this morning:

"All South Carolinians endeavor to do their duty. If these boys are allowed a chance they will do theirs and I shall do all I can to encourage and assist them, and you can count upon by co-operation and assistance in bringing about a compliance on the part of the national guard of this state with the provisions of the militia law as enacted by congress, under conditions of your former letter and reply thereto."

"Wire orders for encampments, beginning July 17."

DANGLING TO BIPLANE AVIATOR FACES DEATH

Captain Hennessy, of U. S. Army, Escapes Almost by a Miracle.

San Diego, Cal., July 10.—Captain F. B. Hennessy, attached to the First United States aero squadron here, had a narrow escape from death in a falling bi-plane yesterday, according to information which came to light today.

He had attained an altitude of about 800 feet over the ocean when a gust of wind tilted his machine and threw him out of his seat. His right foot became entangled in the wires which control the ailerons and the machine immediately began to sink.

It had glided nearly 400 feet down, it is said, before Captain Hennessy succeeded in freeing his foot. The machine had kept an even keel and the officer managed to regain his seat and control of the plane. The machine was then within 200 feet of the water.

GARRISON TO INSPECT ALL THE ARMY POSTS

Washington, July 10.—Secretary Garrison will start Wednesday on a tour of inspection of army posts in the United States. He intends to visit thirty-three stations to ascertain advantageous, strategic locations, irrespective of topographical divisions, but he has declared his purpose to proceed with his plans.

Secretary Garrison said today that after he had completed his inspection of the posts he would need the co-operation of congress, not for the purpose of taking troops away from any place, because that was a matter solely under the direction of the president, but in carrying out plans for any post it might be found necessary to enlarge.

The secretary added that if the members of congress would not co-operate in this matter he would have to do the best he could without their aid.

"Undoubtedly the people benefitted *by the presence of the army at dif*ferent posts," he said, "would put very strong pressure upon the representatives in congress, with a view of having all of the army that they could get at every place where their presence would benefit the people commercially. This would result undoubtedly in the congressmen making those representations to me and in my having to get them to co-operate with me in the most intelligent treatment of the subject."

PLOTTED WITH LOVER FOR HUSBAND'S MURDER

New Haven, Conn., July 10.—The coroner today held James Plew, of Middlebury, and Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield, of Bristol, criminally responsible for the death of William O. Wakefield, the woman's husband. He found the death wounds were inflicted by Plew and that Mrs. Wakefield was an accessory. She confessed she plotted with Plew to get Wakefield out of the way so they might live together.

MRS. MARTIN IS ROBBED OF GEMS WORTH $32,009

Paris, July 10.—Mrs. John F. Martin, of New York, was robbed last evening of jewelry valued at $32,000 at her hotel on the Place Vendome. She had left the jewels wrapped in a handkerchief on a table in her suite.

New York, July 10.—Mrs. John F. Martin is a wealthy widow, whose residence is at the Hotel Ansonia, in this city. She sailed for Paris about ten days ago.

TERRACE HOUSE OFFICER IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

G. W. Walker, house officer at the Georgian Terrace, accidentally shot himself yesterday afternoon while oiling his pistol in his room.

The bullet entered his leg below the knee. He was able to summon assistance, and an hour later walked to the taxicab which took him to the Grady hospital. Dr. A. G. De Loach, Mr. Walker's physician, states that the wound is not serious, and that Mr. Walker will be able to be out within a few days.

TWO HUSBANDS DROWN IN SIGHT OF WIVES

Jacksonville, Fla., July 10.—C. S. Wilson, a real estate dealer, and H. Ellison, merchant, were drowned in Trout creek today by the capsizing of a small sail boat. The men were out with their families on a picnic and went down in full view of their wives, who were unable to render them aid. The bodies were recovered.

NO CURTAILED GAMES ON CHICAGO GROUNDS

Chicago, July 10.—No more games at the Chicago National league grounds will be curtailed to allow a team to catch a train, according to an edict issued today by President Murphy.

The order will do away, Mr. Murphy thinks, with any incentive to "stalling," which umpires charged the Chicago team did in the second game with St. Louis here last Sunday.

Mr. Murphy, however, still denies the umpires took the right course in forfeiting the game to the visitors, and today appealed from President Lynch's decision sustaining the arbitrators, to the National league's board of directors.

DEFEAT OF HARDY CHARGED TO SMITH

the Wilson and Marshall ticket in the Ninth district of Georgia in the November election than any man in Georgia, when the district was redeemed from a republica majority to 900 for Taft four years ago to a democratic majority of 2,659.

Mr. Hardy is a prominent democrat, is a member of the democratic executive committee at large for Georgia and chairman of the democratic executive committee of the Ninth district. He is a fighter for democracy's cause and has never failed to lay aside his personal preference in a democratic primary and worked zealously for the party nominees, county, state and national. In the pre-convention contest he supported Oscar W. Underwood for the presidency, but in doing so he made a clean fight. He made no fight against Woodrow Wilson personally or in any manner unbecoming a good citizen, and nothing to the contrary can be successfully proven.

Appeals for 71,410 Voters.

Now that unwarranted and unholy opposition to his appointment, from outside the district, has developed, I appeal to you as senator from Georgia, to whom such appointments in North Georgia may properly be submitted, to urge the postmaster-general and the president to appoint Mr. Hardy. I appeal to you in behalf of the 71,140 loyal democrats of Georgia who voted for Underwood in the pre-convention contest, and others who voted for Clark and Harmon, but who stood firm in the November election and helped to give Wilson and Marshall an overwhelming majority over all the combined opposition, to give them some recognition in the distribution of patronage in our state.

I appeal to you in the sense of justice and fairness that opposition to any applicant, who is a true democrat, should not be based upon the fact that he was not an original Wilson man. Again, it is fair to me that my recommendations should be approved by you and insisted upon, if necessary, when it is true that I have and will recommend, out of the eighteen presidential offices to be filled in my district, sixteen applicants who were original Wilson supporters and who, all of them, have always supported you in your contests.

I appeal to you in the spirit of harmony in our state to give at least a reasonable part of your influence with the administration to the end that all factions may feel in a measure that their services and devotion to the cause of democracy are appreciated and that they, as democrats, are not disqualified because forsooth some extreme factional partisan desires to be dictator.

I appeal to you in behalf of a majority of the voters of 104 counties in Georgia who are confident that many who apply for recognition under a democratic administration are entitled to your support under existing circumstances, and should not be disqualified because of their pre-convention votes, if they are organized democrats.

Awaiting your reply, very respectfully,

(Signed) THOS. M. BELL.

Was Was Preferred.

"I would have indorsed Mrs. Ham as quickly as any woman living for the position, but I became convinced that the patrons of the office preferred a man for the place, and the experience they have had for the past few years, no doubt, led them to believe that it was the part of wisdom to appoint some active, young, energetic man, who is well qualified.

"In my candid opinion the real objection to Hardy was that he was not an original Wilson and Smith man and is therefore disqualified from holding office.

"I have taken no part in factional politics in the state and I regret to see the lines drawn in this manner, and especially to the exclusion of a clean, active, upright citizen who is known throughout the state as a true democrat.

"I was told by the postmaster-general that charges were preferred against Mr. Hardy to the effect that he had distributed a circular gotten out by Thos. E. Watson which reflected on Mr. Wilson, which was refuted by substantial citizens of Gainesville, as will be seen by the following affidavit filed with the postmaster-general:

Affidavit From Summer.

Personally appeared before me, Samuel C. Dunlap, Jr., an officer duly authorized to administer oaths, William Summer, Jr., of Gainesville, Ga., who deposes and says:

"I am an automobile dealer in Gainesville, Ga. I have always been an active supporter of Hon. Hoke Smith and have voted for him in each of his campaigns for governor of Georgia. Furthermore, I was an earnest and active supporter of Governor Wilson in the presidential preferential campaign and voted for him at the Gainesville precinct. I was around the polls at said precinct much of the time on said day of the presidential preferential primary, and endeavored to get as many votes as possible for Governor Wilson. I was so much interested in Governor Wilson's candidacy that, although a feature of my business is the hiring or renting of automobiles, I refused to hire an automobile to Mr. Underwood's supporters to be used by them, as is customary in elections here. I further remember that I saw Mr. A. S. Hardy several times during the day around the polls. In soliciting votes for Mr. Underwood, he was fair and courteous and used no questionable methods. I furthermore swear that I saw no circular or circulars relating to the candidates being distributed at or about said precinct that day. I saw no circular, nor heard of one, containing Watson's charge against Mr. Wilson, and I would have most likely heard of one or seen one, should any have been distributed. If Mr. Hardy ever made any statement, or even published any statement or ever distributed any circular reflecting on Governor Wilson I never heard of it."

(Signed) "WILLIAM SUMMER, Jr.

"Sworn to and subscribed before me this 5th day of April, 1913.

(Signed) "SAMUEL C. DUNLAP, Jr., Notary Public, Hall county, Ga."

"Through lack of space a similar affidavit signed by A. E. Fuller, tax collector of Hall county, is not given. The delay in the appointment prompted me to make further inquiry as to charges, and after making a futile effort to see the charges on file, I addressed the following letter to the postmaster general, to which I received no response:

Letter to Burleson.

April 15, 1913.

"Hon. A. S. Burleson, Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.

"My Dear Mr. Burleson:

"On account of heavy correspondence which I am compelled to look after in the forenoons; the sessions of the democratic caucus on tariff bill the remainder of the day, I respectfully request that I be furnished with a copy of the protests, if any, lodged with you against the appointment of Mr. A. S. Hardy for the postmastership in my home city, Gainesville, Ga., at your earliest convenience. I do not care for the names of the protestants, but the nature of any protests which may appear objectionable to the department.

"Very respectfully,

(Signed) "THOMAS M. BELL.

"On May 3 I addressed the following letter to the postmaster general, without being favored with a reply:

"May 3, 1913.

"Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir:

"I am advised that prominent citizens of Gainesville, Ga., desire to confer with you relative to the postmastership at that city, and trust you will not take any definite action until they can be heard.

"Very respectfully,

(Signed) "THOMAS M. BELL.

"By this time I became thoroughly convinced that some peculiar and hidden influence was operating against me in this matter, and on May 6 I made an engagement with the President to discuss the situation with him, as will be seen by the following letter from the white house:

"The White House,

Washington, May 7, 1913

"My Dear Mr. Bell:

"Your letter of May 6th has been received, and I have brought to the president's attention your request that no action be taken on the Gainesville, Ga., postoffice case until you can see him on Thursday.

"Sincerely yours,

(Signed) "J. P. TUMULTY,

"Secretary to the President.

"Hon. Thomas M. Bell, house of representatives.

Nomination Set In.

"The apointment was made on May 7, and the next day, May 8, I received the following from the white house:

"The White House,

Washington, May 8, 1913.

"Dear Mr. Bell:

"The president directs me to express his real regret that the sheet containing the Gainesville postoffice nomination inadvertently was mixed with other nomination sheets yesterday and sent in to the senate. In view of your request that action be delayed until you had opportunity to see the president, this is an oversight which is greatly regretted.

"Sincerely yours,

(Signed) "J. P. TUMULTY,

"His Secretary to the President.

"Hon Thomas M. Bell, house of Representatives.

"I felt that I should be permitted to see all the papers in the case, and when a request was made to have the papers sent to the senate committee where I was allowed to see them, I found the original charges which I had not been given an opportunity to refute, which are as follows.

"Gainesville, Ga., March 11, 1913.

"Hon. A. S. Burleson, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir: Congressman T. M. Bell will urge the name of A. S. Hardy for the position of postmaster at this place. A. S. Hardy fought Woodrow Wilson for president, and his appointment as postmaster here would not meet with the approval of a Wilson supporter in this county. Hardy fought Wilson more bitterly than any man in Georgia and went to the convention at Baltimore as a delegate in the interest of Underwood and fought Wilson there to the bitter end.

(Signed.) "J. O. ADAMS.

Letter to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

"Under date of January 10, 1913, W. C Ham, of Gainesville, Ga., wrote as follows:

"Mr. Hardy published everything that would damage Mr. Wilson's campaign that he could possibly find, including his fake letter, known as the Booker T. Washington letter, which was purported to be a letter of sympathy from Mr. Wilson to this negro about some trouble the latter was in. Senator Smith is favorable to this appointment and I will appreciate it very much if you will be so kind as to get these facts before him before he is seen by some other parties.

(Signed) "W. C. HAM.

"Mr. Hardy was not a delegate to the Baltimore convention, although the picative charge was made without any opportunity of denial.

"Gainesville, Ga., June 2, 1913.

"Hon. Thomas M. Bell, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir: In answer to yours of the 30th instant, will say I am the chairman of the democratic executive committee of Hall county, and was also a delegate to the state democratic convention Mr. A. S. Hardy was not a delegate to the Baltimore convention. Mr. S. C. Dunlap, of Gainesville; Mr. John S. Wood, of Pickens county; Mr. H. F. Starr, of Banks county, and Dr. J. C. Bennett, of Jackson county, were the delegates and alternates from the ninth district. Mr. Hardy was at the national convention simply as a spectator and as correspondent for certain newspapers of Georgia. Respectfully, (Signed) "A. J. MUNDY.

"A similar letter was written by Samuel C. Dunlap repeating the above statements made by Mr. Mundy.

Invisible, Secret Influence.

"There seems to be an invisible, secret influence operating in Washington to the exclusion of anti-Smith-Wilson people so far as Georgia appointments are concerned. This is unprecedented in the annals of the history of this country and so undemocratic as to excite serious consideration for the welfare of our party in the future. If loyal democrats are to be disqualified because of their pre-convention views, it is high time the people should know the facts and be given an opportunity at the polls to prevent the wrecking of the democratic party, which for so many years has held its ranks together and made the southland the greatest country in all the earth.

"With a abiding faith in the honesty, integrity, sincerity and good judgment of the great bulk of American citizens, and especially in Georgia, who today have a proper regard for their independence to the extent they will not allow the principles they have so long advocated and voted for reduced to monarchism or despotic individualism by those temporarily clothed with power."

OSCAR DEWBERRY MUST PAY PENALTY TODAY

The fate of Oscar Dewberry, the negro sentenced to hang today for the murder of a white boy a year ago on Decatur street, was finally settled yesterday afternoon when Governor J. M. Slaton declared that he saw no reason why he should grant his request for commutation of sentence.

The pardon board had declined to urge that a respite or a pardon be granted by the governor and Governor Slaton asserted that he agreed with the board. The petition was taken before the governor by Lowndes Connally, attorney for Dewberry, who is due to hang today in the Tower.

Aubrey Beucicault Dead.

New York, July 10.—Aubrey Beucicault, actor and playwright, died of pneumonia here today. He was a son of Dion Beucicault, a well-known English actor, and was born in London in 1868. He came to this country in 1890.

CLUBWOMEN OF SOUTH LEAD IN HEALTH WORK

Salt Lake City, July 10.—That the women of the federated clubs of the southern states promise to outstrip those of the north with their health campaigns was a statement contained in the report of the school health committee at the session of the national council of education today. The council, in session here in connection with the National Education association, elected these officers:

Robert J. Aley, president University of Maine, president; W. B. Owen, Chicago, secretary; David B. Johnson, president Winthrop college, South Carolina, member executive committee.

The Religious Education association, which was to have met today, announced that it had been decided not to hold sessions while in Salt Lake City. It denied that cancellation was due to fear of religious controversy.

TAX PENSION BILL NOT READY TO REPORT

The ways and means committee of the house held a meeting Thursday afternoon at which time the sub-committee of five, selected to report a tax revision measure, announced that it had been busy at work, but was not yet ready to report. An extension of time until the next regular meeting of the committee of Tuesday was given the sub-committee to finish its work.

No bills were reported favorably and the meeting was a short one. The only bill reported favorably by the ways and means committee so far is the bill of Representatives Arnall and Wall, of Elbert, and Thompson, of Madison, to put county treasurers on a nominal salary of $200.

Mr. Brown proved a faithful student and his success in business is a foregone conclusion.

THE GOVERNOR ON TAX REFORM.

Governor John M. Slaton put the question of tax reform in a nutshell in his address to members of the appropriations committee at the banquet given them recently by Chairman Crawford Wheatley. If one man pays taxes on ten cents on the dollar while everyone else paid at the same rate there was no special cause for complaint, he said. But if one man pays on ten cents while others paid on fifty cents, or vice versa, then there was decided cause for complaint. And it is this form of taxation that prevails in Georgia today.

There is an almost ludicrous lack of uniformity in the taxes of the 148 counties in Georgia. The tax receiver and the conscience of the taxpayers are the only arbiters, the court of last resort. If a man in one county returns farm lands worth $50 an acre at 84 an acre, and the farmer in the next county returns lands of the same value at $10 an acre, the inequality and the loss to the state is manifest. Yet these conditions are common throughout Georgia.

Now, what does equalization propose to do? It sets out to even up things, so that the man who owns land or other property will pay upon a fair valuation, whether he lives in the mountains or on the seaboard. When equalization becomes effectual every farmer, every merchant, every resident of the city will simply pay what he ought to and pay at the same rate observed by his neighbor.

It is the fact that men know some of their neighbors will deliberately undervalue that lead them to the same practice. They reason that it will be poor business for them to pay their taxes justly, if the other fellow is not going to give the state a square deal. Between them Georgia gets much less than it should, country school teachers go unpaid and a yearly deficit grows constantly larger.

Governor Slaton's suggestion that county commissioners be made boards of assessors has merit. It has been tried in Fulton county and found feasible. We commend his talk to the ways and means committee and to the members generally of the legislature. It comes from a judicial mind eminently familiar with the legislative processes of the state and in touch with its fiscal needs and the resources with which to meet them.

A FAR-SEEING BANK.

The Constitution takes pleasure in commending the Moultrie Banking company, in a new policy it has inaugurated with regard to the agricultural interests of its section. The story is told in another column, in the form of an interview with Z. H. Clark, vice president. If every bank in Georgia, large and small, will follow suit this state will develop and its prosperity become stable in a degree nothing short of marvelous.

The directors of this bank know that the all-cotton folly is injuring Georgia. They have determined to fight it with practical weapons. Georgia has heretofore monopolized almost wholly on the cotton crop, for the reason that that staple is about the only one on which the banks will advance credit, and about the only one, too, for which there is a spot cash market and the adequate marketing machinery.

We have too often described the result of these conditions to necessitate elaborate recital. Sufficient to say, as Mr. Clark shows, that the farmers have been discouraged in the production of corn, hay, other grains and cattle. If they produce these crops they have trouble financing them. And, in the meantime, there is the ever-present specter of debt created by cotton which must be satisfied before any more credit can be secured or the necessities of life even purchased.

The consequence of this policy is written in the fact that although Georgia is ideally adapted to the production of all feedstuffs, she has to send to other sections for them. It is claimed that we keep going by "skimming the land" as the basis of credit, increasing indebtedness yearly.

The Moultrie Banking company, so far as its territory is concerned, is to combat this condition by placing corn, other grains and general produce on the collateral list, under the businesslike precautions elsewhere indicated. The chamber of commerce of Moultrie is also going to co-operate with the farmers in forming selling federations, and supplying all crops with the marketing machinery now confined to the cotton crop.

This is constructive banking. We believe all other institutions in Georgia must come to it. Humanitarianism does not enter into the equation. It is purely a matter of safeguarding from bankruptcy and promoting the interests of the constituents that keep the bank alive and prosperous.

BUSINESS AND LEGISLATION.

Isn't it about time that the sounder sentiment of this country appealed from Philip drunk to Philip sober with regard to the relations between business and legislation? The question is made pertinent by a recent expression from Vice President Marshall, as reproduced elsewhere on this page. The vice president actually stands charged with putting in a word for business! He believes, and doesn't hesitate to state that belief, that the business interests of America have a right to watch legislation affecting their interests. He condemns the lobbying that seeks to defeat righteous legislation. But he protests that business—large or small—has a right to a hearing when congress is passing laws that may affect it. And, along with James J. Hill, he inclines to the belief that prosperity and confidence would be immeasurably helped if congress met at less frequent intervals.

The criminal selfishness of demagogy and the mercenary zeal of the muckraker have created a curious element of incendiaries in this country. They believe that the simple fact that business is in existence condemns it. Prosperity is evidence of guilt. The most ragged and forlorn criminal is entitled to a hearing and a defense. Yet the business incendiaries would arrest, try and convict business interests without giving them the right to one word of rejoinder. Whenever business seeks to make itself heard in its own defense the cry of "lobby" goes up. It is true that those sinister practices that have thwarted the public will in congress need to be checked and eradicated. But it is needless to burn down the house in order to get roast pig. And unless we distinguish sharply between legitimate and predatory business, between the proper representative and the "insidious" lobbyist, we are running the risk of clubbing business to death.

A NEW ELECTRIC TRUNK LINE.

It is hoped the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will see their way clear to meet the overtures of the Anderson (S. C.) Chamber of Commerce looking to the construction of an interurban electric trunk line between the two cities. A committee from the Anderson organization has lately visited in Atlanta for the purpose of enlisting sympathy here in the project.

Some weeks ago The Constitution published an exclusive story touching on this enterprise. The Duke interests in North Carolina have already constructed an electrically operated system destined to link up Greensboro, Anderson and Winston-Salem. The plan is ultimately to connect the system with tidewater at Norfolk. The chamber of commerce of Anderson has asked the road's management to extend the line to Atlanta from Anderson, and it is known that the management is willing to consider the proposition if the territory intervening manifests sufficient interest. The distance is only 120 miles, and there is a choice of several excellent routes.

The extension of this road to Atlanta would mean that the city and the territory of which it is the trade center would enjoy another trunk outlet to the sea. The effect on development and on freight rates would be substantial.

It is well that the lads who think they are running the country had their diplomas before that big sheepskin factory was destroyed by fire.

We are in receipt of several poems on "A Summer Land of Dreams." Perhaps it is where the summer resort board bill never falls due.

Note from the seashore: If bathing suits come any higher the wild waves won't be able to reach 'em.

They say President Wilson is enjoying his vacation, and yet he has golf and congress on his mind at the same time.

Good excuse for the stay-at-home: "My vacation roll hasn't arrived from the government laundry."

The Colonel has gone west to study the Hopi Indians. Wants a new warwhoop to revive his party, probably.

In future senators and representatives will be denied fancy stationery. Plenty of room outside of that for some of them to cut a flourish.

They kin take a train for Billville, an' then

All we're wantin' is a warnin', wafted on

The country'll try to listen while they argue
"fit to kill!"
But when the big procession, with cheers,
is passin' by,
If we cannot swim the rivers we'll climb
the tree-tops high.

Let 'em stand
Fine an' grand,
Gittin' votes on every hand;
An' from the ringin' tree-tops
We'll cheer to beat the band!

With thick green grass around it, eh?

And flowers at work to make the gloom
A sort of circus day of bloom.
An' me stretched out beneath that oak
With face turned up into the sky
Just watchin' the holy ghost go by
And lettin' the beauty through me soak!"

The Legislature and the Women.

Editor Constitution: The legislature has done right in refusing to shut the doors to women who wish to be heard for woman's suffrage.

The mere fact that the solons do not indorse woman's suffrage does not, in the minds of a large per cent of Georgians, justify them in barring the white women of our good old state from the use of a public hall for their deliberations. The people of Georgia need not fear harm at the hands of such good women as Mrs. Felton, Mrs. Sibley and other prominent ladies who take part in the convention. They represent the very best element of Georgia's womanhood, and Georgia's womanhood is second to none on earth for purity, philanthropy and conservatism.

The state capitol building, being public property, was evidently built and is being maintained partially by the funds that these women contribute to the support of our government in the way of taxes.

The senate started out wrong in this matter and I am glad it got right and that the house was right at first. J. E. STEMBRIDGE.

A Story of the Moment

BOOK AGENTS.

"There is more perfidy in the world than you could shake a stick at," said the retired merchant. "You know I have the finest collection of meerschaum pipes in the United States. I have been assembling those pipes for thirty years, and I'm naturally proud of them. Nothing does me more good than to meet people who appreciate the beauties of such pipes. This morning there was a ring at the doorbell, and when I opened the door I found a polite stranger of dignified appearance, who said he had traveled 3,000 miles to see my pipes. He was an enthusiast himself, he said.

"Of course I invited him in with great cordiality, and began showing him my collection, but he didn't seem at all interested. As soon as he had a chance to utter a few words he said that he was anxious to show me specimen sheets of the great Transatlantic Encyclopaedia, which is published in 487 volumes, and which he could get delivered at my door upon payment of $1 down, and I could pay the balance in monthly installments of $3, covering a period of 133 years. He talked a steady streak for three hours, not even giving me a chance to order him out of the house, and I finally ordered his everlasting publication in self defense, or he'd be talking my arm off until it's time to do our Christmas shopping early.

"There ought to be a law against that sort of thing. A man's house is his castle, and the oily tongued stranger who gains entrance to it by false pretenses should be burned at the stake.

"Of course you feel hot under the collar just now," observed the hotel-keeper, "but if you are a good sport you must admire the man's skill. I tell you, these doggone book agents are the greatest generals in the world. Napoleon and Wellington weren't in the same class with them. They are over every once in a while, and I'm always mad at first, but I must admit that I admire them for their curves.

"The highest ambition of a first-class book agent is to get into your house. If he can achieve that, he considers that half the battle is won. He's at a disadvantage standing on your doorstep with his sample book in hand, while you look at him through the screen door and invite him to walk to the next town. He simply has to resort to strategy to get inside. It's all very well to denounce his tricks, but what is he going to do? He has a family to provide for his famished wives and grandmothers he has to sell his books, and he can't sell his books unless he gets into your house, and he can't get into your house unless he employs a few stratagems, so his diplomacy is perfectly legitimate. If he explained to you, when you open the door, that he is agent for an encyclopedia of 10,000 volumes, he couldn't sell a set in five hundred years. So we should be good sports and pretend we enjoy it when the book agent throws his harpoon into us.

"Old Quackenbush has a perfect horror of book agents, and he used to boast that no member of the tribe could ever get into his house. If a stranger went to the door he had to give his whole family history, and furnish the blue prints, before he was let in. One day a fellow at the old man, who was all bunged up with rheumatism, scrabbled to the door and called to his son, who had just left the house on his way downtown. The son came back, and they stood on the porch talking a minute or two.

"The old man explained that his rheumatism was getting worse, and he believed that Dr. Crawdad, the family physician, wasn't doing him any good. 'There's a new doctor in town,' said the old man; 'I haven't seen him, but they say he's good, and I want to give him a trial, so call at his office and send him out here.'

"An oily tongued stranger happened to be passing the house while they were talking, but Quackenbush never noticed him. Ten minutes later a man with a little black satchel came to the door, and when Quackenbush opened it, he said: 'You wanted to see Dr. Shrimp, I believe?' Quackenbush invited him in, and the doctor opened his little grip and produced a sample copy of 'The Life and Letters of Captain Loose,' and sold four copies to the old man, at $10 each. I call that good sportmanship, doggone it. When the real Dr. Shrimp arrived, Quackenbush set the dog at him."

ON KEEPING COOL.

By GEORGE FITCH

During July and August keeping cool is the great American profession.

Keeping cool in these months is considered even more important than getting rich. Men who could make an extra million dollars by staying at home and skinning their enemies, give up the chance without a sigh and devote themselves to the fascinating science of keeping their perspiration under complete control.

Millions of dollars are spent each summer in perfecting this science. If the amount of money spent in America for cold drinks, shower baths, electric fans, automobiles, bathing beaches, mountain hotels, spiders' web underwear, rice powder and negligee shirts were all to be cashed in one lump we could pay off the whole debt and still.

There are three popular methods of keeping cool. One is the side-stepping method. This is very successful. By leaving his business in June and picking out a nice room on the shady side of the coolest street on the lee side of an ocean or large lake, a man can remain comfortable for three months at $10 per day.

Some people produce a very fair imitation of this method by filling a winter home with electric fans, ice boxes, grass rugs and thin clothes. But carefully doing nothing during the heated hours and by keeping full of iced drinks, the experimenter can keep reasonably comfortable until after dinner. He can then insert himself into a large automobile and can fan himself by gasoline power until midnight, after which he may be able to go to sleep and forget that it is hot.

Another popular method of keeping cool is to insert one's self into a suit of working clothes and labor profusely from early morning until 5 p. m. When the laborer has done this he retires to his home, eats a beefsteak and sits on the front porch until bedtime, mopping a pale face thermometer may stand at 100, but he is so much cooler than he was during the day that life is pleasant to him and he is perfectly satisfied with the administration.

The first method of keeping cool costs about $1,000 if economy is used. The second can be done for half the amount. The third doesn't cost anything and usually brings in about $2 a day. This is why the descendants of the people who are keeping cool by the first two methods will some day adopt the third method; while the descendants of the calm man, who decorates the porch in his shirt sleeves, will toil manfully all day to keep cool by the first two methods and will give it up as a bad job at night and soak their pillows with high-priced perspiration.

The World's Mysteries

WHO KILLED CONSTABLE DE BOURBON?

During the middle ages nothing inspired more horror among the people than false oaths and perjury. Numbers of popular legends are to be found telling of the awful divine judgments which are visited against the impious because of the anger of heaven. They believed that the hand of the exterminating angel always was stretched out, menacing and implacable, over those who escaped the action of the law, or who placed themselves superior to it.

An example in truth of this legend is that shown in the death of that familiar figure, the Constable de Bourbon. This interesting personage was born in 1489. Early in life he displayed a superiority in mental and bodily accomplishments. His personal beauty and his physical strength excited wonder and admiration, while his unusual understanding made for him a host of friends.

The first campaign of De Bourbon was made in Italy, with Louis XII, during which the Chevalier Bayard became his most intimate friend. He was so successful that he was raised to Constable of France. He accompanied Francis I to Italy and to his talent was due the victory of Marignano. Because the Queen Mother is supposed to have made advances to the handsome De Bourbon, which were repulsed, a coldness sprang up between the king and his general.

It was through that influence of the Queen Mother that the king refused repayment of the money which Bourbon had to borrow to save the Milanese. There was also an effort on the part of this woman to have him deprived of his estates. Provoked by this ingratitude, he entered into a secret correspondence with Charles V, who was Francis' most formidable rival, and with some difficulty Bourbon escaped from France and was immediately appointed lieutenant general to the Emperor in Italy.

He was able to relieve Italy from the French rule, and succeeded in capturing the French king at the battle of Pavia, but he did not receive the price he expected for his treason. He desired to marry the sister of Charles, the beautiful Eleanor, but this the king refused, for much as he valued the services of Bourbon he could not have a traitor as a brother-in-law.

The indignant Bourbon returned into the midst of the army of which he was the soul, to hide his shame and rancor. At first the army supported the privations which their chief shared, but finally they murmured because their pay was refused. The constable tried to soften their complaints and met with further trouble when the magistrates and inhabitants entreated him to put an end to this deplorable state of things and to remove his army, which, according to the expression of the times, "lived on the poor man."

He seemed to be touched by the evils which the army had caused and solemnly promised that they should cease provided the city of Milan furnished him with 30,000 ducats to pay his band of mercenaries, after which he would lead them out of the territory. Thus ran the oath, the breaking of which was fully believed to be the cause of his death by the superstitious: "In case the least distortion," and in calling to heaven to witness his promise, "should be made on the poorest villager or citizen, I pray that at the next battle or assault in which I shall be engaged the first cannon ball that is fired may be at me and carry away my head."

The money was paid, but the army remained, and robbery, burning and murder followed in spite of their captain's oath. At length the Constable, who doubtless did not possess sufficient authority to keep his word, marched his army out of a country which could no longer maintain it to Rome, which he intended to besiege, but a thousand sinister voices repeated in his ear the fatal oath he had so imprudently made.

The presentiment of his death seems to have oppressed him when he encamped on May 5, 1527, before the walls of the Eternal City, and even his soldiers, who loved him as a father, shook their heads and fixed their fearful eyes on the general's tent, where he had shut himself up, ordering that all should be ready for the attack on the following morning.

Bourbon slept little through the night and at daybreak the trumpets sounded the assault. The Constable, brooding over his broken promise, became desperate and without saying a word seized a ladder, and, rushing before all the boldest, himself placed it against the wall. An artilleryman, recognizing him from the battlements of the Castle of Sant' Angelo, directed a piece so skillfully that the ball carried away the head of Bourbon and his wish was gratified.

Who was this artilleryman? Several Romans claimed the honor of having been the slayer of the haughty Bourbon, but it is *generally supposed that to the famous sculp*tor Benvenuto Cellini belongs the credit. Rome was indeed taken and given up to all the horrors of pillage, but at least the perjurer had received his punishment.

LENDING MONEY ON PRODUCE MOULTRIE BANK WILL FIGHT THE FETICH OF ALL-COTTON

By ranking hay, grain and other produce as collateral for credit, equally with cotton, the Moultrie Banking company, of Moultrie, Ga., is perhaps the first bank in Georgia to strike a practical blow at the all-cotton folly in this state. The bank is one of the youngest in Georgia, and is at the top of financial institutions in the southwestern part of the state. W. C. Vereen, a well-known Georgia capitalist and promoter of development, is president; Z. H. Clark, vice president. Mr. Clark visited Atlanta yesterday and discussed the policy of his bank briefly.

"Colquitt and the counties surrounding it," he said, "are among the wealthiest and most prosperous in the state. But we long ago realized that it could be much wealthier and the prosperity more stable if farmers raised their feedstuffs, instead of sending money outside the state for them and going into debt to do it.

Will Lend on Produce.

"Our chamber of commerce has long been at work upon the problem. Recently, Mr. Vereen took up with the directors of our bank the question of lending farmers money on corn, oats, hay and other produce, as well as on cotton, which resolution by the board of directors is the answer.

"Henceforth, we will advance a fair percentage of the market value of these products to farmers when they are placed in bonded warehouses, and Moultrie has ample facilities in this direction, graded and duly certificated. Moultrie raises even now a fair percentage of these products. But there is no spot market for them and no adequate marketing machinery, as for cotton. Few farmers can hold them, and as a result are compelled to dump at a market at a loss. Later, many of these same farmers buy food products from the west at an advanced price. Even those who do raise them one year become discouraged at lack of immediate return, and the next year return to all cotton.

Marketing Machinery.

"We realize that we cannot produce a revolution within one year. In order to gradually effect the change, we are preparing to organize farmers' federations so that we can have at hand selling machinery for the benefit of that large class of farmers who desire to produce in lots too small for export, but who can sell and export by combining.

"As a further means of encouraging home raising we are now looking into the purchase of a modern packing house. Should that materialize, and the fact that all Moultrie is back of it is promise in that direction, there will be a year-round market for the hogs and cattle of all south Georgia.

"We are setting out to save our portion of the money that Georgia annually spends for flour, which could be supplied at home. We realize that the practice of sticking to cotton alone, and mortgaging the crop each year to grow it, is going to lead to hopeless indebtedness. By practical methods, we are going to get out of the mire, so far as our own section is concerned, and it is the duty of the banks everywhere to lead the van. They will be among the first beneficiaries of the change."

GIVE BUSINESS A HEARING SAYS VICE-PRES. MARSHALL

(From The Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Philadelphia, July 6.—Vice President Marshall, in a remarkable interview today, declared that in his belief the American business man is justified in maintaining special paid representatives at Washington for the purpose of watching legislation.

He also asserted that the American business man should forget congress for the next ten years.

He said that in this he had the same idea as James J. Hill, who recently said that the best thing for American business would be to abolish congress for ten years.

The lobby investigation is being conducted by a committee of the senate, of which the vice president is the presiding officer. But he says that "as American business is being run at present, the business man is bound to spend money and to have a representative near the capitol.

"I am not saying whether this money is spent honestly or not," said Vice President Marshall. But he stated that there is such a thing as legitimate expenditure of money for lobbying.

ENEMIES.

By George Matthew Adams.

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

People are known and judged quite as much by the kind of Enemies they make as by the kind of Friends they have.

Choose your Enemies.

Many a man or woman has been handicapped by having some one else choose their Enemies for them. For Enemies must needs come to every forceful Character, sooner or later. And if you do the choosing of your Enemies, you know the kind you have to deal with.

Choose your Enemies:

Another strong point about choosing your own Enemies, is that you can study them to better advantage than if someone else chose them for you and acted as Coach to them. For many a man, by close application to the study of his Enemies, can finally make them his Friends!

Choose your Enemies.

Enemies have the most to do with and cluster most around those who are Positive and Definite as Doers. To have big plans and important work to perform and to go ahead with it without fear or favor, is to create Enemies from somewhere. But Enemies never come around unless you become Effective and Monumental in your efforts. Then the Enemies get busy.

Choose your Enemies.

But not for a single moment allow the work of your Enemies to deter you from pursuing desired ends. Accept them as a matter of course, never allowing yourself to get to their level. For then they may swoop down upon you to bewilder and defeat you.

Choose your Enemies.

And remember that by always remaining bigger than your Enemies, you pave a path over which they may finally walk as your Friends.

Through Clover Ways.

I.

Last night, my Dearie, in sweet, sweet dreams,
I lived again the happy days
When once in the rose of morning tide,
We wandered through Love's clovered ways,
And blithely, hand in hand, we two
Strolled through the twilight's purple haze.

II.

Swift the days come and go, my Dearie,
The sun, as or olden gleams,
But, ah! 'tis when the silver moon
Doth spill her tender molten beams,
A spirit unseen from realms you come
To fill my heart with olden dreams.

III.

In sweet, sweet dreams, last night, my Dearie,
Rosy lips and eyes so blue
In tender witchery on me smiling,
Just as once here you used to do!
My Dearie, my Dearie, to sleep for aye,
And dream sweet dreams of you.

CHANGE IN TAX OFFICE IS VETOED BY MAYOR

Thinks Present System Is Best. Will Lead to Fight in Council.

The project to merge the tax office under one supervisory head was vetoed by Mayor James G. Woodward yesterday morning.

The resolution, introduced by Alderman James R. Nutting, which provides for the consolidation of the tax office under a system similar to that which was in vogue prior to first of January, 1913, was the first measure considered by Mayor Woodward from among the batch sent to him from the last council meeting.

Together with the vetoed resolution, a message will be sent to council from the executive department. In a discussion of his veto action Thursday afternoon, Mayor Woodward enumerated three reasons for returning the Nutting resolution without his approval.

First: That the present system is best for the people.

Second: That the present system is economical; that it saves thousands of dollars to the city annually.

Third: That under the present system the people can appeal to the assessors and through the assessors take complaints to the tax committee.

The vetoed resolution will go to council at the next regular meeting, two weeks hence.

The Line-Up in Council.

On the side of Mayor Woodward, fighting against the Nutting measure, will be Tax Chairman Charles Whitehead Smith and Councilman Orville H. Hall, of the tax committee, and Judge John S. Candler, author of the law under which the tax office is now operating. The three are strong factors in council's deliberations. Alderman Nutting, the author of the vetoed resolution, will lead the fight to override the veto.

The fight will be watched with interest. Except on one, possibly two occasions, Mayor Woodward has been overridden. In nearly every instance Alderman Nutting has led the fight against the mayor.

Interesting also is the fact that Tax Chairman Smith and Alderman Candler have individually fought the mayor's veto prerogative when it struck at matters of interest to their constituents.

To Bring Out Cause of Trouble.

Friction in the tax office will be bared in the fight on the floor of council. Just what is the trouble in the department is a perplexing issue. The assessors—J. N. Malone, J. D. Harrison and C. D. Meador—are in charge of one department. Chief Clerk G. B. Beauchamp is in charge of the receiving department, and E. E. Williams is in charge of the tax collection department.

Under the present system the chief clerk has five assistants under him. He also has authority over J. T. Collier, the investigator. The assessors, while they have the authority over the entire office, have a supervisory influence which does not amount to very much.

Should Mayor Woodward's veto stand, Chairman Smith and Councilman Hall will urge the adoption of a resolution authorizing an amendment to the constitution which will separate the three departments of the tax office, each officer in absolute authority over his department.

Colored Said to Have Changed.

The Nutting resolution was returned to council from the tax committee with a favorable report, Chairman Smith and Councilman Hall were the only ones who signed an adverse report. Since the return of the report to council and the adoption it is understood that Councilman Colcord has also taken an adverse position. The fact that the report had already been made to council was the only factor that prevented a minority report being offered. Both Chairman Smith and Councilman Hall held up the Nutting resolution on a motion to reconsider after it was adopted, but at a subsequent special meeting Alderman Nutting protested on the ground that two councilmen could not hold up a matter upon which council and the aldermanic board had voted in joint session.

Mayor Pro Tem Warren ruled that Alderman Nutting's point was well taken and ordered Clerk Walter Taylor to transmit the resolution to the mayor. Mayor Woodward declined to accept it, taking the position that it was illegally sent to him. Council, at its meeting Monday afternoon, retransmitted the resolution to the mayor, with the result that it was vetoed.

BATTLING AND DANCING FOR THE SOLDIER BOYS

Atlantans at St. Simons March Under Hot Sun and Trip the Light Fantastic.

By Robert Quin, Special Correspondent.

St. Simon's Island, July 10.—(Special.)—The boom of cannon at sunrise today awoke 600 Atlanta boys of the Fifth regiment to the first real activities of the camp life and under the burning rays of the sun they marched and maneuvered about the island, undergoing instruction in the details of an actual battle supervised and planned by regular army instructors.

The men entered into the work with interest and enthusiasm and before noon they were dismissed from duties and were in the ocean cooling off.

A large party from Brunswick were hosts of the regiment at a big dance tonight at St. Simon's hotel. Colonel Pomeroy and staff, company officers and the men were in attendance and music was furnished by the regimental band. Brass buttons and braided uniforms made the usual impression and the routine of camp life quickly passed from the soldier boys' minds because of the cordial hospitality extended by the Brunswick girls.

Those who had an idea that camp would be a pleasant lark altogether soon gave up the thought after they had donned flannel civilian suits and started out on the beach. Instead of a stroll to the seashore, they were put under arrest and confined in the guardhouse for hours as a lesson that in camp only military clothes are in order.

Aside from the morning drill, which is over at 10 o'clock, and dress parade late in the afternoon, Colonel Pomeroy has placed no further restriction on the men, and they are all having a great time.

The hospital corps has found very little to do owing to the ideal sanitary arrangements of the camp. The men are in fine health, with good appetites, and sleep soundly in the open, cool, salty air.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR MACON SCHOOL

Macon, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—The contract for the erection of Macon's new co-educational high school was awarded by the board of education tonight to W. J. Bellan, a local contractor, for $94,687, exclusive of plumbing and heating. There were seven bids submitted.

In addition, the board awarded the Englehart company, of Atlanta, the contract for putting a heating plant in Clisby school, the price being $1,400.

The board re-elected the old officers for another year, Judge A. L. Miller continuing as president.

Petitions from the Masonic home, Hepzibah orphanage and Georgia Industrial home asking for their prorata share of the state appropriation, were refused, the board deciding that it has no legal authority to grant such a request. The institutions claimed their inmates were enumerated in the school census, the county receiving $3 a year for each one.

CASE OF DAVID LAMAR BEFORE GRAND JURY

New York, July 10.—The case of David Lamar—his impersonation of United States senators and congressmen in connection with the so-called Union Pacific conspiracy—was placed before the federal grand jury today by District Attorney Marshall. All the testimony taken in the case before the senate lobby investigation was given to the jury and Lewis Cass Ledyard, one of the principal witnesses before the committee, was called to testify in person. His examination was not completed today.

STAY-HOME ALDERMAN TAKES TRIP FROM MACON

People Amazed When Steve Wright Leaves City for the First Time in 20 Years.

Macon, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—Macon has an alderman who has not been outside the corporate limits of the city, but once in twenty years, and that during the present week. He is Alderman Steve M. Wright, proprietor of a drug store on Broadway.

Yesterday Mr. Wright's friends saw him get in an automobile, but they thought nothing of it, taking it for granted that he was just going for a spin about the city, but late in the evening when they saw him alight from the machine covered with dust, they elevated their eyebrows and then went to inquire what it was all about.

They discovered that Mr. Wright had been to Fort Valley to spend the day, and they learned that fact some were ready to believe that the millenium is near at hand, but they are surer of it now than ever, since it is rumored that Alderman Wright may yet get up enough courage to undertake a trip to Atlanta one of these days.

Twenty years without a change of scene is a record that few persons can boast of. In all these years Mr. Wright has seldom deviated from the path leading from his home to his store, and from his store to his home again.

Elks' Manager Fined.

Macon, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—C. R. Wright, manager of the Elks' club, was this morning fined $700 following his conviction yesterday of violating the state prohibition law, while acting as manager of the club. A motion for a new trial has been made, but if it is not granted, an appeal will be taken. In lieu of the fine a sentence of six months on the county chaingang is provided.

J. B. Brooks, a near-bear dealer, who failed to pay his state license tax on the first day of January, 1913, was found guilty this morning. Brooks entered a plea of guilty and was fined $30.

A. R. TINSLEY IS DEAD; WAS CITY TREASURER FOR OVER 25 YEARS

Macon, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—Addison Roscoe Tinsley, for twenty-five years treasurer of the city of Macon, died this morning at 11:40 o'clock at the age of 74 years. He had been in poor health for some time, but few of his friends were aware of the serious nature of his illness. His death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. B. West, 504 Washington avenue.

Mr. Tinsley was born in Milledgeville in 1837 and while a boy his family moved to Savannah, where he was educated at the Chatham academy.

He enlisted in the Oglethorpe light infantry, the first company to leave Savannah. In the first battle of Manassas he was wounded in both arms and after he left the hospital was detailed as clerk for General Longstreet, where he remained throughout the remainder of the war. After the close of the war he moved to Macon and after a few years entered a partnership under the firm name of Seymour & Tinsley. Later, after the death of Mr. Seymour, the firm of Tinsley Bros. & Co. was formed, and at its dissolution Mr. Tinsley was named city treasurer and has been elected by each succeeding administration.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. West, Mr. Tinsley leaves two sons, Addison D. Tinsley, of Smyrna, and T. D. Tinsley, of Macon, a member of the firm of Jaques & Tinsley, and two sisters, Mrs. Thomas W. Troy, of Macon, and Mrs. Henry E. Rees, of Hartford, Conn.

I. B. HALL CONVICTED OF WILLFUL MURDER OF DENNIS W. HALL

Tifton, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—The jury in the case against I. B. Hall, charged with murder, after being out six hours, returned a verdict at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon of willful murder without a recommendation. Judge Thomas will pronounce sentence tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Argument of counsel was concluded this morning and after the judge's charge the case went to the jury at 11:45 o'clock. Mr. Hall is from Laurens county, and is very prominently connected there as well as in this county.

I. B. Hall shot and killed Dennis W. Hall on the afternoon of May 10 last. The two men were of the same name, but no relation to each other. I. B. Hall had moved to Florida some time before the killing, and his wife had rented three rooms of the house they occupied to Dennis W. Hall, retaining two rooms in which they had some furniture stored. They only remained in Florida a few weeks and on their return asked Dennis Hall to vacate the rooms. This he refused to do, saying that he had rented them for a year. The two families lived in the same house for several weeks and quarrels were frequent. I. B. Hall took legal steps to eject Dennis and Dennis finally arranged to move out on Monday following the Saturday on which he was killed. Saturday about 1 o'clock the two men had a dispute and Dennis Hall came uptown. On his return, while he was sitting on the banister of the porch, I. B. Hall shot him, and he died a few minutes later.

GIRL BREAKS RECORD FOR LOW LIVING COST

Ithaca, N. Y., July 10.—The record in low cost of living, which a Cornell freshman set by living on 85 cents a week last winter, has been broken by Clara S. Loewus, of Towanda, Pa., who claims to have lived at the rate of 50 cents a week for her food for the last twenty weeks. She is a student of the violin at the Ithaca Conservatory. Her daily menu is a cup of tea, two slices of bread with peanut butter and a cup of cocoa for breakfast, one boiled potato with dairy butter and two slices of bread with peanut butter for dinner. As an occasional treat on Sundays she has had a few tomatoes and occasionally an egg, but all within the $10 limit for twenty weeks.

Miss Loewus is five feet tall and weighs 115 pounds and is in the best of health, despite her restricted fare. She won a scholarship in the conservatory and, although she might have received assistance from her parents, she has preferred to educate herself without any help

FAVOR A. & M. SCHOOL FOR TWELFTH DISTRICT

Bill of Senator Kea Indorsed by the Educational Committee. School System Rapped.

If the action of the education committee of the senate, taken Thursday afternoon, is followed by the house and the senate, the establishment of a school of agriculture and mechanical arts is assured for the Twelfth congressional district. The bill for its establishment and maintenance was introduced by Senator Fred Kea and the sentiment of the entire committee seemed to favor the creation of such a school.

The committee reported favorably upon the measure, but asked that the bill be referred to a subcommittee consisting of Senators Sweat, Irwin and Hixon for perfection, and the measure will take this course.

The committee set Senator Richardson's bill, providing for the revision of the state school laws and the creation of three additional supervisors, as a special order for its next regular meeting and invited Prof. M. L. Brittain to enlighten the body upon the purpose of the legislation.

Irwin Rags System.

During the discussion of this measure Senator Irwin took opportunity to deplore the existing evils of the school system of Georgia. Senator Irwin said: "I offer a reward to anybody who will show me anything that the state board of education has ever done to help the children of Georgia. It takes eleven years for a child to go through our public schools, when he ought to get through in four. The system is radically wrong, being garranged for the dullest student, and there is no resource for the bright ones. Consequently they become indolent, idle and good for nothing."

A. H. Nunnally replied briefly to Senator Irwin by admitting the defects of the system, which could not be helped, and asks that Senator Irwin suggest a better method. The senator then arose and proclaimed his ability to formulate a system which would remedy the existing evils and with the same number of teachers as are now employed so arrange it that the bright boys could get through in a much shorter time than it would take for the duller ones.

"If you can do that," shouted Mr. Nunnally, "you are the man the world's been looking for many, many years. If you can do that, you will immortalize yourself and become a benefactor to mankind!"

The committee reported favorably upon the measure providing that charges must be preferred in writing against members of the board of school commissioners before they can be summarily dismissed. Mr. Woodall, of Forsyth, addressed the committee convincingly upon the bill, deploring the present conditions, which allow members of such boards to be elected before they are given due notice of any charges advanced.

Bank Bill Made Special Order.

A joint committee meeting on banks and banking was held Thursday afternoon and the bill creating a department of banking and a commissioner of banking, with assistants, was placed as a special order for the next meeting of the committee.

This bill was drawn up by ten members of the Georgia Bankers' association and given the stamp of approval at that body. The legislative committee of the bankers' association was present yesterday to argue their needs and outline their plans before the joint committee.

A. J. Blalock, of Jonesboro, chairman of the legislative committee of the bankers' association, urged the establishment of such a department and the complete divorcement of the banks from the treasury department.

F. S. Etheridge, of Jackson, also a member of the bankers' committee, spoke briefly along the same lines as Mr. Blalock.

Four bills introduced by Senator Kea, urged and instituted by Commissioner of Commerce and Labor H. M. Stanley, for the betterment of labor conditions in the factories of the state, were reported upon favorably by the committee on commerce and labor.

The bills, which are companion measures, are: To require factories to report conditions of factory when requested; to amend code so as to provide placement of seats for females; to require proper ventilation, heat and regulation of sanitary conditions in factories; and to require factory employees desiring to make up lost time to report the conditions of the case to the commissioner of commerce and labor.

Commissioner Stanley addressed the committee shortly on these measures, urging the betterment of factory conditions in Georgia.

VIEWS OF ROOSEVELT ON JAPANESE QUESTION

Tokio, July 10.—The Tai-Hei-Yo News agency says today that Viscount Kentaro Kaneko has received a letter from Theodore Roosevelt expressing the view that American public opinion will not permit the naturalization of Japanese in the United States, as it would lead to a similar claim on the part of the Chinese.

Mr. Roosevelt, according to the news agency, promised to use his efforts in the solution of the California alien land ownership situation.

Viscount Kaneko is a graduate in law of Harvard university. He was the unofficial representative of Japan in the United States during the Russo-Japanese war, and delivered many addresses all over the country.

SUFFRAGETTE BOASTS OF APPLYING TORCH

Mrs. Edith Rigby Glories in Having Burned Costly English Home.

Liverpool, July 10.—A dramatic confession in incendiarism was made by a well known militant suffragette, Mrs. Edith Rigby, wife of a physician at Preston, to the magistrate in police court here today.

Mrs. Rigby declared it was she who last Tuesday burned down the country residence at Rivington, near Horwich, Lancashire, of Sir William H. Lever, causing damage estimated at $100,000. She further confessed to being the perpetrator of the outrage at the Liverpool cotton exchange on July 5, when a bomb exploded but caused little damage.

Mrs. Rigby surrendered voluntarily to the police. When arraigned today she gloried in her achievements, saying she wanted Sir William H. Lever to consider whether his house was more valuable as a show place than as a beacon lighted for the king and the police were not suffering an unsupportable grievance. She told the magistrate:

"I lighted that beacon. I also placed the explosives in the Liverpool cotton exchange to show how easy it is to procure them and to place them in public buildings. I might just as easily have blown up the Nelson monument."

She was remanded for further hearing.

Mrs. Rigby has been a member of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette organization, for many years, and has taken a great part in public movements to promote the rights of women. She has been imprisoned five times in connection with suffrage movement, and was on several occasions released, owing to the breakdown of her health after "hunger strikes."

Mrs. Rigby said to the magistrate: "I chose the Liverpool cotton exchange because the cotton industry has been built up largely by women's labor. The employers are willing to get power and wealth out of the labor of women, while the women themselves are denied the vote and citizenship. This is the first knock at the door. Under the cat and mouse act one of the greatest women in the land is going to be done to death. If the government is going to kill that woman this is a warning."

ONLY MAINTENANCE FUNDS ARE ASKED

McDaniel, chairman of the general committee, and Professor Thomas Hooper, acting secretary, to read the resolutions adopted at the morning session.

"Resolved first that the chancellor of the university and the heads of the several branches thereof be authorized to present to the committees on appropriations the needs of their several institutions.

"Second: That the board of trustees of the University of Georgia, having due regard for the present condition of the state treasury, is of the opinion that the condition of the state treasury now justifies the following appropriations except for maintenance.

"Third. That the following amounts be and are hereby asked for maintenance of the institutions herein named:

University of Georgia proper, $62,500; increase $10,000; for the summer school $5,000, no increase; North Georgia Agricultural college, $25,000, increase, $2,500; school of technology, $90,000, increase, $10,000; Georgia normal and industrial college, $60,000, increase, $7,500; college of agriculture, maintenance, $70,000, increase, $10,000; extension department, $12,000, increase, $3,000; Farmers' institute, $2,500, no increase; hog cholera, $7,000, no increase; state normal school, $55,000, increase, $7,500; medical college, $30,000, no appropriation last year; South Georgia Normal college, $25,000, no increase.

"Fourth. That no special appropriations shall be asked at this session of the legislature to any particular institution."

Chancellor Barrow for All.

Chancellor Barrow's remarks were very brief as he left it to the representatives of the various branches to present the needs of their particular institutions. He merely stated that the increases asked for were not for permanent buildings, but to maintain present efficiency. Unless they were granted, retrogression would be inevitable.

Judge W. E. Simmons, of Lawrenceville, presented the case of the university proper. He compared the amount received from the state by the university proper to the appropriations made by other southern states.

"Georgia gives to its university," he said, "less than the smallest state in the Union. The maintenance fund from the state for the university last year was $52,500, while Alabama gave $116,000; Arkansas, $147,000; Florida, $90,000; Oklahoma, $253,000; Louisiana, $124,000.

"Of course, if the university did not have an endowment in addition to the annual appropriation it could not exist. The income of the university proper from all sources last year was only $119,013, as against $210,000 for the University of Alabama, $273,000 for Arkansas and larger amounts for nearly every southern state."

Dr. K. G. Matheson declared that the Tech was contending with too much prosperity, meaning that the number of students had grown beyond the capacity of the institution to take care of them. He told of the

BOLL WEEVIL BARRIER SAID TO BE FEASIBLE

Washington, July 10.—Letters and telegrams by the score from southern states inquiring about the proposal to erect a barrier to keep the boll weevil out of the south Atlantic cotton states today poured into the office of Senator Smith, of South Carolina, author of the plan.

It was stated that the general tenor of these communications was that it would be feasible to establish a belt some fifty miles wide across Alabama from north to south in which the cotton should not be grown and thus cut short the journey of the audacious cotton pest to the east.

Another precedent for federal aid in the proposed plan is said to have been found in the activity of the government to stamp out the cattle tick.

Her Hunger Strike Wins.

London, July 10.—Miss Clara Elisabeth Given, who with Kitty Marion was sentenced on July 3 to three years' penal servitude for setting fire to stand on Hurst park race course, was released from prison today in a serious condition of health, resulting from a hunger and thirst strike.

Boyd for Chief Clerk.

Washington, July 10.—James R. Boyd, of South Carolina, is slated for chief clerk of the railway mail service at Nashville, Tenn., where the position was discontinued by the previous administration. If he does not get the Nashville place he will be sent to Chattanooga and Chief Clerk Shore, from that city, will get the Nashville berth. The Nashville office will have charge of the Nashville and St. Louis line, now in charge of the chief clerk at St. Louis.

BIJOU SHOW GIVEN AT FEDERAL PRISON

A fine show in the prison auditorium was presented Thursday morning by the players at the Bijou theater. The musical tabloid entitled "Along Broadway," was rendered by the entire company from the Bijou theater under the management of Mr. Labridy, with some notable artists among the performers, including Will Stanton, Miss Thornton and Miss Rosalind May, assisted by several ladies and gentlemen whose specialties pleased greatly the large audience. Several songs and choruses were rendered by the company.

The Bijou orchestra accompanied the performers.

It was a red letter day for "the men behind the walls," and the kindness of those who came out to give them pleasure will not soon be forgotten.

Mrs. Brooks Organizes New D. A. R. Chapter at Forsyth

The Fourth of July was appropriately celebrated in Forsyth at the handsome colonial home of Mrs. Richard P. Brooks, who entertained in honor of our nation's birth.

The colors of our county gracefully adorned the spacious entrance and "Old Glory" inspired the guests with patriotic ardor.

Mrs. Brooks, the charming hostess, for several years has been an active and enthusiastic Daughter of the American Revolution, and is at present regent of the Piedmont Continental chapter of Atlanta. For some time it has been her ambition to establish a chapter of the D. A. R. in her home town, and it is due almost solely to her efforts that the movement reached a happy consummation only July Fourth. An appropriate program was rendered to the delight of our forefathers, and ever to keep before our youth the story of our country and the history of our great soldiers and statesmen, who, through their heroic sacrifice and long suffering, made our country the greatest republic of all times. In closing the address she paid a loving tribute to the flag. The remainder of the program was as follows:

Reading, "Our Flag"—Mary Birdsey.

Salute to the Flag—In concert.

Vocal Duet—Mrs. J. E. Bogle and Miss Mamie Pinckard.

Reading—Miss Wilhelmina Blackshear.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. John Taylor.

Paper on D. A. R. Work in Georgia—Mrs. R. P. Brooks.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. J. E. Bogle.

Mrs. Brooks then introduced Mrs. John O. Ponder, who, in her pleasing manner, accepted the position as regent. Mrs. Ponder is a woman well beloved and her popularity means much toward the success of this movement.

On this fitting occasion fourteen ladies pledged their suport as members to the new organization.

Application for a charter will be made in the early fall, and until that time the chapter will not engage in any active work.

The interesting program was concluded by an instrumental solo by Miss Mary Ponder, after which a delicious ice course was served.

Mrs. Tilt Guest of Honor At Brilliant Gathering

Mrs. William Tilt, of New York, was the guest of honor at a beautiful dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kiser entertained at the Capital City Country club last night, when twenty-eight guests were in the party.

The table at which they were seated was on the rear porch of the club overlooking the terraces leading to the lake. There were beautiful flowers decorating the table and the party was one of the happiest of the evening. Mrs. Kiser wore a white lisse gown painted in a design of flowers, and Mrs. Tilt was charming in a white gown and hat.

Others entertaining at the club were Mr. E. A. Alfriend's party, which numbered twelve; Mr. W. S. McBurney, entertaining twelve, the other hosts including Mr. Dodson, Mr. Baskerville, Mr. C. T. Nunnally and Mr. Pool.

The occasion was the second of the series of dinners being given at the Capital City Country club on Thursday nights.

FOURTH JUDGE URGED BY LOCAL ATTORNEYS

A resolution urging the representatives of Fulton county to introduce into the legislature and urge the passage of an act creating a fourth judge of the superior court of Fulton was unanimously passed yesterday morning at a called meeting of the Atlanta Bar association, presided over by President Reuben R. Arnold.

The resolution is the outcome of much comment on the part of Atlanta attorneys over the congested conditions in the superior court docket and the consequent delay of legal matters.

Representative John Y. Smith, secretary of the bar association, was not able to be present, owing to the sitting of the legislature and Frank L. Neufville acted as secretary.

President Arnold appointed the following committee to co-operate with Fulton's representatives in securing the early passage of the bill:

Arthur Gray Powell, Edgar Watkins, Burton Smith, John L. Tye, Daniel W. Rountree, Ed C. Hill, Van Astor Batchelor, J. H. Porter, John W. Moore, Frank L. Neufville, Luther Z. Rosser, Sr., Jack J. Hastings, George Westmoreland, Arminius Wright and Philip Alston.

Arthur Sasser.

J. Arthur Sasser, of 243 Ponce de Leon avenue, secretary of the Thankera Financing company, who has been quite ill for the past week or ten days, has sufficiently recovered to get out again. He expects to spend the next month away on a trip and will probably go to the mountains of North Carolina.

ATLANTA ROTARY CLUB IS NEW ORGANIZATION

Hubert W. Anderson Is President and Henry W. Grady Is Vice President.

An Atlanta Rotary club, which will become a part of the International Association of Rotary clubs, was organized this week by Atlanta business men at a meeting called by Ivan E. Allen and held in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce.

The objects of this organization are to develop and exchange the newest, best and most successful business ideas, to promote progress and honorable methods of trade, and to advance and build up the commercial interests of the community.

Rotary clubs in various American cities are taking a leading part in business and civic progress, and the club organized here is expected to become a vital factor in Atlanta's growth.

The organization meeting was presided over by Mr. Allen, who had been designated as organizer for Atlanta by the international association. At this meeting the following officers and directors were elected:

President, Hubert W. Anderson; vice president, Henry W. Grady; second vice president, Ben Lee Crew; secretary, Howard Gelderi; treasurer, W. S. Lounsbury; directors, Ivan E. Allen, chairman; A. S. Adams, R. L. Foreman, L. D. Hicks, Jack H. Lewis, E. H. Cone, George M. Greene, Evelyn Harris, Fred Houser, Francis E. Kamper, Charles D. Atkinson, W. L. Halstead, E. H. Goodhart, W. B. Seabrook, Paul P. Reese.

Although the new organization has members prominent in the Ad Men's club and the chamber of commerce, the Rotary club is in no way connected with either of those institutions.

HAMMOND ELECTED DEPUTY GRAND PRES'NT

Frank Hammond, secretary to Mayor Woodward and one of the most dominant figures in the theatrical world, has been elected chairman of the finance committee of the grand lodge and deputy grand president of the Theatrical Mechanical association.

The Footlight, a theatrical periodical of which he is promoter and editor, has been selected as official organ of the association after a fight in which its biggest competitor was the Billboard. Through Mr. Hammond's efforts Atlanta has won the national convention of the T. M. A. for 1917. San Francisco was chosen as convention place for 1915.

Charles W. Schweitzer was elected president of the organization during the present convention.

COOLER WEATHER IS TODAY'S FORECAST

Cooler weather and more showers are forecast for today. According to the weather bureau, the maximum temperature will be about 88 degrees, which was reached Thursday, and which is decidedly cooler than in most other cities of the United States, and some 8 degrees lower than here on last week.

Cloudy weather and varying breezes kept the mercury down Thursday, and the changeableness of the clouds and wind made the mercury go up and down frequently. At 1 o'clock the highest mark had been reached when the mercury rose to 88 degrees. An hour later a heavy cloud over the sun and a sprightly breeze had dropped the temperature to 78 degrees. By 3 o'clock the thermometer was crawling upward again, but it could not go very high, as the usual afternoon drop was due.

DOG-CATCHERS WILL SOON BE BUSY AGAIN ON ATLANTA STREETS

Wanted—Two dog catchers. Apply to Walter Taylor, city clerk.

City Clerk Walter Taylor will be a busy little fellow for some days, according to the above, which will shortly appear in the official organ of the city.

Dr. Arthur H. Van Dyke, the author of the dog muzzle ordinance, which was vetoed by Mayor Woodward, and who also drew up the ordinance authorizing an appropriation to operate two dog wagons, called on the city clerk Thursday and urged him to get the dog wagons busy.

Under the resolution City Clerk Taylor will be the custodian of all Fidos gathered up, and there are about 9,999,999 roaming the streets, wrestling with soup bones and upsetting garbage cans. Strictly interested, it is the duty of City Clerk Taylor to personally take charge of the wagons and to see to it that the dogs are properly handled so as not to conflict with the ideas of the S. P. C. A. However, Alderman Van Dyke has solved the problem, which has kept the city hall philosopher awake at nights, by authorizing him to spend $10 a day to have the job done.

Applications have already begun to pour in. One fellow down in Americus, Ga., has applied for the job, but the city clerk is a bit skeptical.

Between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock Friday morning the city clerk will examine applicants for the jobs of official dog catchers.

City Marshal James Bolton Fuller, the city dog expert, will conduct the examinations.

TO USE HUNT TESTIMONY IN CRAWFORD WILL CASE

Testimony of Dr. J. W. Hurt, who attended the late Joshua Crawford during his final illness, will be used by attorneys for his widow, Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, to refute the statement of Dr. H. F. Harris, who found traces of morphine and other drugs in the stomach of Crawford when he recently exhumed the body. It is stated that Dr. Hurt will testify that he gave the aged man a small quantity of morphine each day for some time before his death, and this accounts for the presence of the drug.

The testimony of Dr. Harris, of the state board of health, was brought out in a hearing before Auditor James Anderson, sitting at the testimony in the famous Crawford will case. Certain relatives of Crawford are seeking to secure his estate, valued at $250,000, and prevent the widow, who was Crawford's second wife, from getting a share of it.

Family of Dying Veteran in Desperate Circumstances and Aid Is Being Solicited

The family of Robert Hightower, the daring lieutenant of the confederacy, whose mind has reverted to the days of civil strife, is in destitute circumstances at their home, 247 Cooper street.

The aged veteran has been afflicted with a strange mental disease for considerable while. Physicians say he is beyond recovery and that his death is a question of only a short time.

Members of local charitable organizations to whose attention the pathetic case has been brought are solicitous of any aid that might be given the Hightower home.

HEARING IS PROMISED WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS

Washington, July 10.—Chairman Henry, of the house committee on rules, today told a delegation of woman suffragists, headed by Mrs. Helen Gardener, the writer, that the committee would give them a hearing next December on the question of adding a committee on woman suffrage to the standing committees of the house. The delegation included the wives of Senator Shafroth, of Colorado, and of Representatives Raker, of California; Stone, of Illinois, and Taylor, of Colorado.

Mr. Henry said the committee could not, under the present program, take up the matter at this session, but would be glad to hear the suffragists between the first week of December and the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Gardener and Mrs. Stone, who did the talking, told Mr. Henry that one-fifth of the senate and one-seventh of the house membership now comes from states where women vote, and that one-sixth of the electoral votes are cast by suffrage states. They also said that in the 1916 presidential election nearly 4,000,000 women will vote.

Suffrage bills for twenty-three years have been referred in the house to the judiciary committee, they said, and this committee has proved a "graveyard for all such measures."

Consideration in the senate today of the proposed constitutional amendment to enfranchise women was prevented by objection from Senator Thornton, of Louisiana.

WHITE-LIGHT POST SHATTERED BY AUTO

While E. F. Williams was cranking a big four-cylinder car at Hunter and Whitehall yesterday afternoon, the motor slipped into gear, made a lurch forward, and as Williams dodged, crashed into a lamp-post, broke four big globes, one piece of glass falling on the arm of Jenaro Peggutt, a balloon vender of East Hunter street.

If it hadn't been for the lamp post no doubt a number of ladies would have been seriously injured, as the corner was congested at the time.

The Giants and the Crackers both had their winning streaks broken Thursday, the former after winning fourteen games and the latter after winning eight.

GIANTS AND CRACKERS LOSE AT LAST

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

Too Much Strain.

THE CRACKERS broke their winning streak Thursday, when they donated the game to the Gulls on errors. It was just a case of too much strain, this winning every day. They've got the bobbies out of their system now and today is another day.

Due Blow Up.

THE TEAM was due a blow up. But we claim that they can come back. Watch 'em today and see. It was just one of those days that happen to all good ball teams. It is regretable that it had to happen right at this time, but it did. Let's forget the past and look to the future. We're in that old pennant hunt and we're going to show 'em today.

Great Stuff.

THE BOOTING that the home crowd gave the team Thursday was great. And its a pity with such support from the fans that they should uncork such a wee game. Sounding like the pennant yells to hear that crowd Thursday. And the way they went after Umpire Wright was a sin and a shame.

Lend a Hand.

THE FANS of Atlanta have demanded a winning ball club. Now they have it. Which puts the shoe on the other foot. The club is playing great baseball and seems set for another pennant. What are you fans going to do about it? Go out to the games and root. And the boys all the encouragement possible. They appreciate it and they will prove it in their play. Nothing else will do more good than to realize that the home fans are lined up solidly behind it. Come on, now, all together!

Better Coaching.

THE NOISE on the coaching lines of late has been fine. Joe Dunn, Gil Peterand Frank Manush have been stirring 'em up in fine style. And it has been wide awake coaching, too. The rules prohibit a coach from soliciting the aid of the stands in their coaching. Take your cue from the coachers of the local team. The minute they open up, set right in behind them and make plenty of fuss. The team will do the rest, you can gamble on that.

Overlooked Him.

THURSDAY morning. Whiffs commented on the twirlers that are in the hunt for the pitching honors this season. Elmer Brown of the Montgomery Billikens was overlooked. This lad has won seven and tied one of the last eight games he has pitched, giving him 14 wins and four defeats for the season, which puts him considerably in the running.

In Tight Place.

THE LOCAL club is placed in a peculiar position on this "Pop Rox" Smith matter. If they push the claim, they will probably get him. But suppose an accident befalls some member of the present staff and it is necessary to get a hurler at a moment's notice and there a couple of days later. Smith is awarded to Atlanta. The local team would have more twirlers that they could possibly use. Therefore the local club is going about things slowly and cautiously.

Nothing To It.

WALLOP SMITH will not go to the Boston Braves. You can stick a pin in that. We'd be willing to gamble that Clark Griffith of the Washington Americans will get the big thirdsacker. This is not official, but it is our understanding, that Griffith has first call on the pick, this year if the trades this fall don't bear us out.

Who It Was.

THE UNKNOWN fan who gave Heinie Zimmerman half of a $100 bill, with the promise of the other half if he went crazy and batted .400 for two weeks, has been discovered. It was none other than our old friend Charles Webb Murphy. But Chubby Charlie got more than that amount of free advertising from the stunt. So he should worry.

Startling Figures.

THE CRACKERS have scored 356 runs in 83 games this season, an average of practically 5 to the game—410 would be five. They have made 741 hits, or an average of 9 and a trifle over. Can you imagine this? Do you wonder that sometime back we were yelling for pitchers. Any team that can average 9 hits and five runs to a game for an entire season ought to be away out in front. The Crackers will be before long, just as long as their pitchers are able to hold the opposition to less than 5 runs and 9 hits.

Should Encourage.

THESE figures should encourage good work on the part of the local twirlers. Every man on the staff ought to pitch his best in the face of such offensive strength. They will not have to pitch under such a strain. It is not necessary for them to pitch shutout ball to win. It is only necessary for them to hold the opposition long enough for the local batting crew to get busy. Then it is curtains for the opposition.

Best Race Yet.

OLD TIME fans do not recollect a better race for the rag than the one going on in the Southern league. With five teams absolutely in the hunt and a sixth—Nashville—showing signs, with added strength of breaking into the fight at a moment's notice, this season ought to be a good one from the stage standpoint, as well as from the excellent class of ball that is being delivered.

Barons Buy Gregory.

Birmingham, Ala., July 10.—Announcement was made today that Birmingham had purchased Pitcher Gregory from Ottawa, Ohio. He will report in June. He has the record of pitching in nineteen games and losing but four this season.

Six Glaring Errors Present Gulls With First of Series; Crowd Gets After Umpire

By Dick Jemison.

Six glaring errors broke the Crackers' winning streak Thursday afternoon, the league leading Gulls being presented with the first game of the series by a 6 to 1 count.

The Crackers played the most wretched ball that they have turned loose on the home grounds this season. Long, Welchonce and Bisland being the only men who did not make bobbles.

After donating two runs to the Gulls in the first inning on four bobbles, and then tying up the game in the third, the strain was too great and the winning runs were handed to the Gulls in the stand up chapter.

Price twirled for the Crackers. Never did a pitcher work more heroically. For six innings he allowed but one hit. After the blow-up came in the seventh and eighth they got to him for seven more. In the last three chapters, making a total of eight.

Gilbert twirled a wonderful game in the face of horrible support by his team-mates and most discouraging umpiring. He deserves a world of credit.

Cavet pitched nice ball for the Gulls, always tightening up when hits meant runs. But at that he was touched for eight singles and was lucky to get away with only two runs being scored against him.

Police Protect Umpire.

The crowd had been more or less peeved with Umpire Pat Wright during the early innings, but their wrath was turned loose in all its might when he called Tommy Long out at the plate in the seventh inning.

Schmidt touched Long in plenty of time all right, but he did not touch him with the ball. The back edge of his mit was all Charlie hit him with, and he'll admit it himself if you'll ask him. He hasn't put the ball on him yet.

The Crackers flocked around Wright protesting and he shooed Joe Dunn from the box. This made the crowd madder than ever and they kept after Pat for the rest of the contest.

Only Manager Billy Smith's personal escort of Wright, when he left the grounds, kept the infuriated fans away from him when he left the field, went under the stands and started to the umpire's room. Manager Smith had to push the crowd away from the door, charging and imploring them not to start anything they would be sorry for.

After Wright reached his dressing room the fans waited for him and when he started to town he had to be furnished police protection.

An Atlanta crowd is usually fair-minded in all sports, generous to the opposition to a fault sometimes. But Thursday's decisions were evidently more than they could stand, and only the timely intervention of the police kept Wright from bodily harm.

Wright had better be more careful in the future on his decisions. Local fans will not stand for such as he handed them Thursday. His guessing has been bad on every visit here, but Thursday's evidently capped the climax.

As to our opinion of Wright as an umpire, we do not use that kind of language.

Shortstops Star.

The Crackers had been playing at too high a strain—thus the errors. The tension is now relieved, so watch them go back in there today. They're out for that old rag and the defeat of Thursday is only a momentary setback at best.

Leland and Stock, the rival shortstops, were the fielding stars of the day. Their work in the shortfield was excellent. Neither made a bobble, the former handling ten chances and the latter nine and some of the plays required wonderful stops and more wonderful throws.

The Gulls counted twice in the first inning without the aid of a single hit. After Cook had gone out, Agler errored McGilli's bag and it then became contagious. Robertson was easy for Agler, but Price dropped O'Dell's slow tap just over his head and both hands were safe.

The double steal was tried and when Chapman threw the ball to center field McGill counted and O'Dell went to third. Whitey kept up with the others by hooting Schmidt's grounder. O'Dell counting.

Welchonce doubled down the first base line in the Crackers' half of the first, went to third on Alpermann's single and counted on Bailey's fly out to left. Clark hit Welchonce on the back with the throw and Alpermann kept on to third, but was left.

Alpermann's triple and Smith's single tied up the game in the third and it rocked along this way until the seventh.

The Donation.

Clark led off this inning with a single to left and was sacrificed to second by Campbell. Carver popped a single to left and when Bailey let it squeeze through his legs Clark and Carver both counted.

O'Dell started the eighth with a double to left. Schmidt beat out a bunt to third and when Smith threw wild to first O'Dell counted and Schmidt went to second.

In the ninth the Gulls counted the only run that they were entitled to, when Cavet tripled and McGilli singled to center.

Conzelman will face Hogg in today's game, and if the Crackers give Joe good support the count will be reversed.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 10.—Montgomery rallied in the last two innings today and, assisted by the home team's errors, overcame a 7 to 2 lead and won. A two-base hit by Wares with the bases full put the visitors in one of the innings in the eighth. In the ninth Sloan beat out a bunt and scored from first on Jantsen's single. A moment later Krohn's wild throw gave the visitors the two winning runs.

Birmingham, Ala., July 10.—Under Leaden skies, Birmingham defeated Memphis 3 to 2, aided by a dim light. Foxen was effective, striking out ten batsmen at critical stages. Newton pitched well but received faulty support. In the fourth inning a trifle play checked Memphis' rush and runs were scored under unusually circumstances.

BIG PRICE OFFERED FOR BILLIE HURLER

Montgomery, Ala., July 10.—(Special.) It is understood that the local club has received a big cash offer for their twirler, Elmer Brown.

It is said that Scout Larry Sutton of the Brooklyn Nationals has bid as high as $4,000 for the twirler, and is only awaiting instructions from President Charley Ebbetts of the Brooklyn club before closing the deal.

DOBBS TO PILOT ST. LOUIS BROWNS

Dame Rumor Has It This Way—Dobbs Does Not Deny Report—He Meets Hedges This Week.

Dame Rumor has it that Johnny Dobbs, the peppery manager of the Montgomery Billikens is to be the man who will succeed, George Stovall as pilot of the St. Louis Browns.

Those who have approached Dobbs on the subject say that he refuses to talk on the subject, neither affirming or denying it.

Much speculation is lent to the possibilities in the report that Dobbs will confer with Owner Hedges of the Browns at Chattanooga eltiher today or Saturday.

The players on the Montgomery club are owned under option by the St. Louis Browns, or that is, most of them are, and it is the careful handling of these that first attracted the attention of the Browns' owner to Johnny.

It would not be surprising to have a definite announcement of some character in the next day or so.

Cracker Sweepstakes Will Feature Motordrome Card; Special Match Race Also

With two corking features, the seven-mile Cracker sweepstakes and a four-cornered, four-mile match race, the regular Friday night card set for decision at the Motordrome looks easily the best of the season.

This card, as arranged now, means not only a revival of the new triangular speed feud of Richards, McNeil and Graves; in the Motordrome Purse at four miles; but likewise a chance for some of the other riders in the longer and more dangerous Cracker sweepstakes, with its trying seven-mile final.

McNeil's machine and that of Graves both went out of business Tuesday night, to the great disappointment of a large crowd. Both have been put right for tonight. Both men are keen to get another whack at Richards, who is winning more on the consistency than on the speed of his machine.

In the purse event tonight Richards, Graves and McNeil are in separate heats. This will mean that they must meet in the finals. At four miles they will put up the most remarkable contest of the season.

In the sweepstakes, which will be started by Billy Smith, form upsets and maybe shifts are to be looked for. Graves, McNeil and Richards will be unable to let out their machines to their full speed on the turns. That will mean that the men with slower, steady machines and men who are willing to risk their necks will have an equal chance. That ought to mean a big meet.

Here is the program:

First Event:
Jock McNeil, one mile against time, today 3 to 1. The contest was a pitchers' battle between Perdue and Harmon, the former having the better of it. The locals profited by St. Louis' errors. A one-handed catch of a low liner by Connelly in the first inning was a feature.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
St. Louis ..... 000 000 100—1 6 3

Pirates 3, Phillies 2.

Philadelphia, July 10.—A reconstructed team of Philadelphia players composed largely of substitutes gave Pittsburg a hard battle here today, but lost the game by 3 to 2. Chalmers was touched up for four hits in the first inning. McQuillan was hit hard, but was given brilliant support.

You may spend extravagantly on your wardrobe—and still not seem well dressed if not well collared.

On the other hand, a correctly shaped Ide Silver Collar will go far toward giving you a well-groomed look, even though your clothes be most modest in cost.

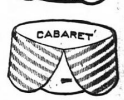
are beautifully made for fastidious dressers. Their style is as lasting as it is absolute. The Linocord Buttonholes (found in no other make) assure the correct effect and set of the collar every time it is worn, because they are Unbreakable and don't tear out.



COTTON WAS QUIET; CLOSED AT LOSS

Fluctuations Were Irregular and All Advances Were Met With Realizing—Spot Cotton Quiet, Unchanged.

New York, July 10.—No fresh feature of importance developed in the cotton market, so far as reflected by today's trading. Business remained comparatively quiet and fluctuations were more or less irregular, but advances appeared to meet considerable realizing, while in the late trading there seemed to be some local pressure on reports of scattering showers and lower temperatures in the southwest.

The failure of the official weather map to confirm private reports of numerous showers in Texas and Oklahoma and rather more favorable advices from the Balkans helped the upturn which carried prices about 3 to 6 points net higher. Offerings became heavier around the close of October, however, and the market eased off in the late trading on expectations that tomorrow's weather reports would be more favorable and reports that the scattering short interest had been pretty well covered.

Closing prices showed a net loss of 2 to 5 points and were at practically the lowest of the day on the new positions. Reports from Houston that the first new bale of the season had been received there today, about eight days later than last year, seemed to attract attention to the possibility of a light movement during August and one of the trading features was switching of October shorts into the later months.

Liverpool will remain closed until next Monday.

Coffee.

New York, July 10.—Prices moved less violently in the market for coffee futures today, but the trading was more active and the undertone was the tone remained extremely nervous. Opening prices were barely steady, a decline of 12 to 22 points, under renewed liquidation, which probably included selling by some of yesterday's buyers who were disappointed at the steps taking by European cables or a further decline in Brazilian exchange. Some of the early offerings in fresh buying was encouraged by reports of a better turn in the Balkan troubles and reports of better spot demand. The opening prices, however, were barely sustained, and the close was steady at a net loss of 2 to 12 points for the day.

BETTER FEELING IN STOCK MARKET

Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific Rose Briskly in the First Hour—Changes Were Small at Close.

New York, July 10.—Both at home and abroad there was an improvement today in condition affecting the stock market values. The betterment was sufficiently pronounced to find reflection in price movements, although the low point to which trading had fallen and the absence of outside interest in the market precluded an extended and vigorous advance. During the first hour there was a brisk demand and prices rose smartly. Canadian Pacific, yesterday's weak feature, bounded up 2 5-8, and Union Pacific nearly as much. Other prominent mediums of speculation rose a point or more. The demand soon fell off however, and prices reacted. The market came to a standstill on the forward swing and during the remainder of the session changes were small. The list dipped downward again shortly before the close, but part of the day's advance was retained in most cases.

The action taken by President Wilson in the hope of averting a strike of conductors and trainmen on the eastern railroads, was rated as the most important influence on the constructive side of the market. Encouragement was derived from Secretary McAdoo's statement that the government two per cent bonds, which recently have been quoted "flat" for the first time would be protected by means of changes in the currency bill. The extension lately of the short interest, many traders felt, is a successful drive at the bears, and this was largely responsible for the swiftness of the early rise.

Although the monthly statement of the United States Steel corporation showed a falling off in unfilled orders of 317,000 tons, bringing back the amount to the smallest in a year, the showing was well in line with expectations, and did not influence the market. The late decline was led by New York Central, which made a new low record for the year, at 95 1-2 after receipt of news from Washington of Senator Norris' proposal of an investigation into the road's contemplated bond issue in connection with consolidation of New York Central and Lake Shore. Other railroads and Ohio also touched a new low point for the year at 51 5-8.

Brighter prospects for peace in the Balkans and the Bank of England's strong weekly statement were reflected in the better tone of the foreign markets. Europe bought 20,000 or 30,000 shares on balance. Total sales, par value, $1,365,000.

United States twos advanced 1-2 on call to 98 1-2.

Canada dropped, despite the good bank statement, and Brazilian issues were offered, but the market closed generally firm.

BULLISH FIGURES ADVANCED WHEAT

Crop Estimates and Good Foreign Demand Caused Advance—Corn Also Higher and Oats Lower.

Chicago, July 10.—Wheat prices advanced today on account of bullish crop figures and because of aroused foreign demand. The close, although easy, was 1-8@1-4 to 5-8@3-4c above last night. Corn finished 1-4c to 1-4c up; oats off 3-c to 1-2c, and provisions varying from 7 1-2c decline to a rise of 15 cents.

Highest quotations of the day in wheat came after the discovery that export business was being counted in millions of bushels and included newly harvested No. 2 red, which has heretofore been neglected. Sections east of Chicago were reported to have sold today for export shipment 750,000 bushels of wheat than ever before in a corresponding time. Apparently, the foreign buying was largely due to the crop estimate Washington put on the probable yield in the spring crop states. There also were discouraging advices concerning the harvest outlook in Europe, especially France. There was only one important set back. This occurred soon after the opening and resulted from coarse dealers sending in liberal acceptances on bids for the new crop. Commission firms, however, were selling rather freely from first to close. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equalled 327,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,000,000 bushels, a year ago 330,000 bushels.

Corn rallied sharply with wheat, because arrivals were small. At first the market was at the mercy of the bears, many longs unloaded, spurred on by the government reports.

Oats broke with corn, but failed to recover all the loss.

Barring an erratic upturn in July pork, weakness ruled provisions, because of cheaper hogs.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Atlanta has the bungalow habit for sure. Thursday, Fitzhugh Knox was issued permits to erect fourteen of them in his subdivision on Kensington, Brantley and Hardee streets, and Cleveland avenue. Total cost will be $24,000.

Mr. Knox has erected a number of such structures in the past few years, and yesterday's permits show that there is no waning in their popularity.

Money Easier.

Although the calamity howlers are worrying over the scarcity of money, the real estate firm of A. J. & H. F. West, through their loan manager, H. F. Martin, is making loans from $1,000 upward, on improved real estate, at 7 and 8 per cent. This firm is carrying a number of such loans now, and announced Thursday that they were prepared to carry many more. This speaks well for Atlanta at such a time.

Williams Street Subdivision.

A. J. & H. F. West are platting the Atwood tract of six acres on Williams street between Tenth and Fourteenth streets, into twenty-four residence lots, and will have them ready for sale by August 1.

Big Deal Reported.

It was reported in real estate circles Thursday that Colonel R. J. Lowry had sold his property at 57 East Alabama street to Luther Z. Rosser and J. H. Horter for a consideration of $35,000, which is at the rate of $1,000 per front foot. The property has a frontage of about 40 feet, and is improved with a three-story brick building.

Thursday's Small Sales.

Thursday saw a number of small sales in the realty field. For the past two weeks these have predominated, and it is safe to predict that the sum-

PROBE FOR LABOR AND FOR CAPITAL

All Their "Wars" Are to Be Investigated by Congress. Alleged Mulhall Has Been Threatened.

Washington, July 10.—All the "wars" that have been fought between labor and capital, all the efforts that both have made to secure legislation which would profit them and the tangled skein woven about their relations in the last ten years are to be investigated by congress. The senate lobby investigating committee tonight decided that the "wars" must be inquired into.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will appear before the committee July 25 and a subpoena was issued tonight for John Mitchell, vice president of the federation and former head of the United Mine Workers.

At the same time the committee subpoenaed George Pope and J. P. Bird, of the National Association of Manufacturers.

As the tale is unfolded, other men prominent in either labor organizations or associations of manufacturers or individual employers of labor who are brought to notice will be asked to appear. The committee decided to look into this subject, believing that it may develop startling information and knowing it will extend their inquiry many weeks.

May Reach Into Dark Corners.

One senator said tonight that the quest might reach back into some of the dark corners of the McNamara dynamiting case and might bring into the light the inside story of many of the great strikes that have paralyzed industries and thrown thousands out of work in the last few years. It intimated, too, that it might develop by far more marvelous stories than the strong tales the committee has heard in the last six weeks.

The committee expects to finish with its investigation of wool and sugar tomorrow and will take up the charges made by Martin W. Mulhall, former "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers. Mulhall will take the stand tomorrow afternoon and his examination may take several days. The committee decided tonight to grant a request from the association to be represented by counsel. It decided also not to turn over the Mulhall papers to the house special investigating committee until it has finished with them, although Chairman Garrett asked for them today.

Mulhall Threatened.

Chairman Overman heard a report tonight that Mulhall had been told to get out of Washington. Mulhall did not know who made the threat. Mr. Overman said steps would be taken to protect Mulhall if necessary by delegating a deputy sergeant-at-arms to guard him.

The senate committee spent practically all of today on wool. William Whitman, former president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers; Winthrop L. Marvin, its secretary, and Thomas O. Marvin, secretary of the Home Market club, all of Boston, were the witnesses.

Thomas Marvin testified that the home club, with a membership of between 800 and 1,000, raised about $17,000 last year, and that its object was to teach the doctrine of protection. It was not a political but an economic organization, he said. He testified that the club had sent out in twenty-five years more than 100,000,000 pamphlets containing protective arguments, but had never used "insidious" or illegitimate means to influence legislation. He said he received $5,500 a year for his services and had spent much time in Washington while the present tariff bill was pending. Many members of the club who are manufacturers, he added, submitted tariff arguments before the ways and means and finance committees.

Whitman-North Letters.

Senator Reed spent several hours reading into the record letters and telegrams between Whitman and S. N. D. North. The letters were written in 1897, when the Dingley tariff bill was before the senate finance committee and North, then secretary of the wool association, was acting as clerk to the majority members.

They showed close relations between Whitman and North, but Whitman insisted there never had been anything improper about North's connection with the senate committee.

"I believe North was faithful to his trust in the subcommittee," he said, "and I don't believe he ever did anything that the most exalted and highminded man could take exception to."

Winthrop Marvin appeared next in the books of the wool association, showing disbursements since he became its secretary, but the committee decided to take them up tomorrow.

TRAVERSE JURORS ASK NEWMAN NOT TO RETIRE

When the traverse jurors drawn for the March term appeared in a body before Judge Newman, of the United States court for the northern district of Georgia, to be discharged yesterday, the foreman handed Deputy Clerk John Jean Steward a paper showing resolutions adopted by that body touching Judge Newman's services as a judge of the United States court.

Declaring "it would be a calamity upon the citizens of north Georgia for him to exercise the right given him under the law and retire from the bench on account of age," the resolutions "earnestly request Judge Newman to continue as judge of this district so long as his physical condition will allow him to undertake its arduous duties."

The paper was signed by all members of the traverse jury drawn for the March term.

DISTINGUISHED MEN INVITED TO SPEAK

Woodrow Wilson, William Jennings Bryan and R. P. Hobson are among the noted speakers who have been invited by the Southern Christian Citizenship conference to address a three-days' session of that body at the Atlanta auditorium on September 19, 20 and 21.

A wide range of subjects will be discussed by men of national reputation. Among the subjects which will be discussed are: Social service, public education, child welfare, the menace of Mormonism, public education, intemperance, social purity, hygiene, municipal reform, crime and lawlessness, personal evangelism and international peace.

CHAPPELLE WILL GO TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Milwaukee, July 10.—Outfielder Larry Chappelle, of the local American association team, will be sold at auction on July 15, Mrs. Agnes Hauser, the club owner, has announced. Many of the major league clubs have bid for the youngster. Both Chicago clubs, Detroit, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Cleveland are in the market.

Chappelle now is out of the game with an injured knee.

Americans and Canadians In Tennis Semi-Finals For Challenge Right

Nottingham, England, July 10.—Maurice E. McLoughlin and R. Norris Williams both won their lawn tennis matches today from the Germans, Otto Froitzheim and Oscar Kreutzer, respectively, and placed the United States team in a favorable position for winning the semi-final round of the Davis cup preliminary. Now it is only necessary for the American players to win one more match of the three to be played in order to advance into the final, where they will meet either Canada or Belgium.

McLoughlin lost his first two sets to Froitzheim, then picked up and won three straight. Williams won his match by three sets to love.

Canadians Also Win.

Folkestone, England, July 10.—Canada finished with two matches in hand in the first day's play in the semi-final of the Davis cup preliminaries against Belgium, with every prospect of meeting in the final round. Wimbledon, the winners of the United States series against Germany at Nottingham, H. B. Powell, the Canadian captain, and B. P. Schwengers, the Canadian champion, won their matches against P. De Borman and A. O. Watson respectively, without the loss of a single set. Powell winning by 6-2, 6-1, 6-1 and Schwengers by 6-4, 6-1, 6-0.

Johnson Will Not Return; Steps to Have His Bond Forfeited Are Being Made

Paris, July 10.—"Jack" Johnson, the negro heavyweight prize fighter, accompanied by his wife and his nephew, reached Paris this afternoon from the south of France. He was met by a large throng of pugilist drove to a number of hotels before he was able to find accommodations.

Johnson said he intended to make Paris his headquarters in the future, and that never on any account would he fight again in America. He added that he had arranged for a number of fights to take place in Europe in the autumn.

Referring to his recent sentence under the "white slave" act to serve one year in the Leavenworth penitentiary, Johnson declared he would carry the case to the highest court, confident a decision ultimately would be given in his favor. It is not generally believed here that Johnson will be deported from France, but the French authorities have not yet arrived at any permanent decision with regard to that status of the case.

Chicago, July 10.—Assistant District Attorney Harry A. Parkin, who conducted the prosecution of Jack Johnson for violation of the Mann law, declared today nothing could be done at present to compel the forfeiture of Johnson's bonds. The negro is under a $30,000 bond for the appearance of which he has not yet been tried. He is under a bond also of $5,000, pending the hearing of his case in the United States circuit court of appeals.

"An investigation probably will be made by the department of justice to determine whether anyone instigated Johnson to leave the country," said Parkin.

Mr. Parkin also declared that it was likely steps would be taken to alter the extradition treaty between France and the United States so that future cases of this kind would be extraditable.

ALIBIS SELL GOALBY TO ROANOKE CLUB

Kitty Goalby, the fast little infielder who pastimed at the keystone the last time the Vols were in Atlanta, has been sold by that club under optional agreement to the Roanoke club, of the Virginia League.

Grand Circuit Races.

Cleveland, July 10.—With apparent ease, Marigold, Rodney driving, carried off the Ohio stake, today's big event of the Grand Circuit racing, in straight heats. The veteran, "Pop" Geers, who until today had not won a heat, took first in the championship pacing sweepstakes and the 2:10 trot. Hetty de Lin, a strong favorite in the 2:14 pace, took the event in straight heats.

The biggest field that has faced the starter so far scored for the $5,000 Ohio stake for 2:10 trotters, but three horses were given the word for the first heat, which Marigold won by two lengths ahead of Tommy Horn, the favorite. In the second heat, Tommy Horn got away in front, but Marigold won handily. The third heat was a repetition. "Pop" Geers, the dean of Grand Circuit reinsmen, lands in Ringheat winner in the meeting in the 2:15 trot.

The crowd cheered loudly when Geers fairly lifted Bertha Carey under the wire a winner.

HOFFMAN PLAYS FIRST, SCHWARTZ ON BENCH

Nashville, Tenn., July 10.—(Special.) Artie Hofman, former Cub star, will play first base for the Volunteers for the next week or more, Manager Jack Schwartz taking himself to the bench.

Bill has been in a slump that he cannot account for, unless he has gone stale. But he believes that several days rest from active campaigning will bring him around again, and furthermore he can get a closer line on his men.

Hofman played the initial cushion Wednesday and had a great day, handling all his chances cleanly and getting two singles and a double in four tries.

COLQUITT TO OPPOSE NEW COUNTY MOVEMENT

Big Delegation to Be on Hand to Fight Creation of Griggs and Hansel Counties.

Moultrie, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—Colquitt county will send a delegation a hundred strong to Atlanta Monday night to oppose the new county movements which seek to dissect from this county some of its best territory to form the proposed counties of Griggs and Hansel.

A rousing mass meeting was held at the chamber of commerce rooms this afternoon and preparations were made to storm the capital city next Tuesday when the Griggs county movement will have hearing before the committee on constitutional amendments. Arrangements are being made for special sleepers to carry the delegation and prominent business men from all over the county will join the party.

Where It Began.

SUPERINTENDENTS ASK SPECIAL SCHOOL TAX

Want Constitutional Amendment Requiring Tax of One Mill for School Purposes Alone.

Athens, Ga., July 10.—(Special.)—The state conference of county school superintendents, in session here this week, just before adjourning, passed unanimously a resolution requesting the legislature in session this year to provide for a constitutional amendment requiring the levying of a special 1 mill for school purposes alone.

They ask that the provision also allow the counties to increase that levy to five mills if the boards of education and trustees so recommended. It is pointed out that this will place the burden on the localities and it is suggested that already twenty-six counties of the state are levying a special tax of 1 mill for schools.

More than half the counties of the state are represented in the conference closing here tonight.

Mrs. Benham—You said that, after we were married, life would be one grand, sweet song.

Benham—But I didn't refer to chin music.
